DORSEY REPLIES TO THE CHARGES OF MRS. L. FRANK

Says the Wife of an Accused Man Would Be the Last to Learn of Her Husband's Guilt.

MRS. FRANK BITTER IN HER CRITICISM

Detective Department Not at All Disturbed Over Denial of the McKnight Woman That Site Signed Affidavit.

"The wife of a man accused of crime would probably be the last person to learn all of the facts establishing her husband's guilt, and certainly would be the last person to admit his culpability, even though it be proved by overwhelming evidence.

"Perhaps the most unpleasant feature incident to the position of prosecuting attorney arises from the fact that punishment of the guilty inevitably brings suffering to relations who are in nt or participation in the crime, who must share the humiliation following from its exposure."

These statements are contained in a signed letter for publication given The Constitution yesterday afternoon by Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey shortly following the issuance of a letter criticising him by Mrs. Leo Frank, wife of the man indicted for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Scores the Detectives.

Mrs. Frank's letter rings with caustic denunciation of the solicitor and the detectives for imprisoning the servant girl, Minola McKnight, and issuing the sensational affidavit purported to have been signed by the negress. She declares belief in her husband's innocence and expresses confidence that he will be acquitted.

She arraigns the circulators of unsavory and "untrue" stories regarding her all ged unhappy married life and asserts that the suspected man could not have been a good husband to her if he were a criminal." It is the first public statement issued by any member of the Frank family and created wide interest.

In accounting for the affidavit of the McKnight girl, she says that it is not improbable that the negress told such a story, as one would have doubtless concoted any kind of tale in order to escape the "tortuous third degree" to which Mrs. Frank says the girl was subjected at police headquarters on the day she made the affidavit. The wife corroborates her husband in his statement of his conduct at home on the day of the tragedy and says that other stories are absolutely false.

In speaking of the Pharan situation, Solicitor Dorsey says that a bill of indictment has been found by the grand jury, composed of impartial and respected citizens, and that as solicitor general he welcomes all evidence from any source that will aid an impartial jury in determining the guilt or innocence of the indicted man. It also is Mr. Dorsey's first statement for publication.

It follows in full:

Solicitor Dorsey's Statement.

"I have read the statement printed in the Atlanta newspapers over the signature of Mrs. Leo M Frank, and I have only to say, without in any wise taking issue with her premises, as I might, that the wife of a man accused of crime would probably be the last person to learn all of the facts establishing his guilt, and certainly would be the last person to admit his culpability, even though proved by overwhelming evidence to the satisfaction of every impartial citizen, beyond the possibility of reasonable doubt.

"Since the discovery of this crime I have rigidly adhered to my consistent policy of refraining from newspaper interviews or statements with relation to the evidence upon which the state must depend to convict and punish the perpetrator of the crime, and it is my purpose to adhere steadfastly to this policy, submitting to the jury of Fulton county citizens, to be selected under the fair provision of the law, the evidence upon which, alone, conviction or acquittal must depend.

"A bill of indictment has been found by the grand jury, composed of impartial and respected citizens of this community, and as solicitor general of this circuit, charged with the duty of aiding in the enforcement of our laws by the prosecution of those indicted for violating the law, I welcome all evidence from any source that will aid an impartial jury, under the charge of the court, in determining the guilt or innocence of the accused.

"Perhaps the most unpleasant feature incident to the position of prosecuting attorney arises from the fact that punishment of the guilty inevitably brings suffering to relations who are innocent of participation in the crime.

PURPOSES TO TAX TOBACCO "TRUST"

Anti-Trust Amendment to Underwood Tariff Bill Introduced at Attorney General's Suggestion.

Washington, June 5.—In accord with suggestions of Attorney General McReynolds, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, introduced today an anti-trust amendment to the Underwood tariff bill, which would levy a special additional excise tax on a graduated scale upon manufactures of tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff. The amendment, coming from a democratic member, will receive thorough consideration from the finance committee. The proposed tax would not reach a manufacturer until he controlled about 25 per cent of the total production of articles in his line. Over that amount he would be taxed in a rising scale on tobacco, 1 cent a pound for the first million pounds, 2 cents a pound for the second million pounds, and so on up to 6 cents a pound. These graduated taxes would be in addition to the regular 8 cents a pound tax that all manufacturers pay on tobacco.

Strikes Big Companies.

Companies of ordinary size would not be subject to this tax, because it does not apply to a production below 50,000,000 pounds of tobacco, or 4,000,000 pounds of snuff a year, so that of the 2,700 tobacco companies in the country, probably only three would be affected, and of the 78 snuff companies, also only three would be affected. In the matter of cigarettes, the tax would only fall on two, or at most, three companies out of 478, and of the 2,000 cigar companies, only two have a product large enough to be taxed.

Seventy million dollars was the amount of the total excise last year on tobacco products, and Senator Hitchcock has estimated that if the tax had been levied on last year's business "the following trust concerns" would have paid the additional tax as follows: American Tobacco company, $7,500,000; Liggett & Myers, $3,100,000; Lorillard company, $144,000; American Snuff companies, $77,000; George W. Helme company, $69,000; Weyman & Burton company, $61,000.

"These would also have been other companies subject to this tax if it could be shown that they were under the same ownership or control as any of the big companies," said Senator Hitchcock today, "and in the case of the Lorillard company it would be subject to a much higher rate of taxation if it could be shown that it is owned or controlled by the same interests that are back of any other company.

Solve Trust Problem.

"It is probable, therefore, that this tax in its present form would reach $15,000,000 a year, which is so large that it would soon force a ready solution of the tobacco trust. If it did not, it would yield a handsome revenue to the treasury and so handicap the trust that it could not carry out its progress of crushing independent companies.

"The government already has the machinery for collecting the tobacco and snuff manufacture in all forms is under complete government control. The power to tax to the point of destruction is unquestioned. Later, if necessary, simple and irresistible. If it succeeds in this line of manufacture it may succeed in others."

KILLS WIFE'S SISTER, MOTHER AND INFANT

Canton, Ohio, June 5.—Enraged, he said, because he came home and found his wife missing, Robert Roach, 28 years old, tonight went on a rampage in his wife's parents and shot and killed his mother-in-law, sister-in-law and 16-months-old baby and fatally wounded another sister-in-law, Lauer. When his arrest was attempted, he shot a Canton police officer in the leg and hit another man on the hand.

After the shooting Roach took refuge in an upstairs room and attempted to asphyxiate himself. He was captured and revived.

CANDLER INVESTS $28,000 IN CENTRAL CHICAGO PROPERTY

Chicago, June 5.—(Special.)—Asa G. Candler, president of the Coca-Cola company, of Atlanta, has bought from Florence E. Hoops, Francis A. Emmons, Jr., Georgiana E. Herrmann and Rhoda Lee Emmons, of Rabun Gap, Rancaster, the property at 1230 South Wabash avenue, 22 1-2 by 146 feet, for reported price of $28,000, or $1,254 a front foot.

The property adjoins one he sold ninety-two feet owned by Mr. Candler, the present purchase giving a total frontage of 114 1-2 feet to the purchaser.

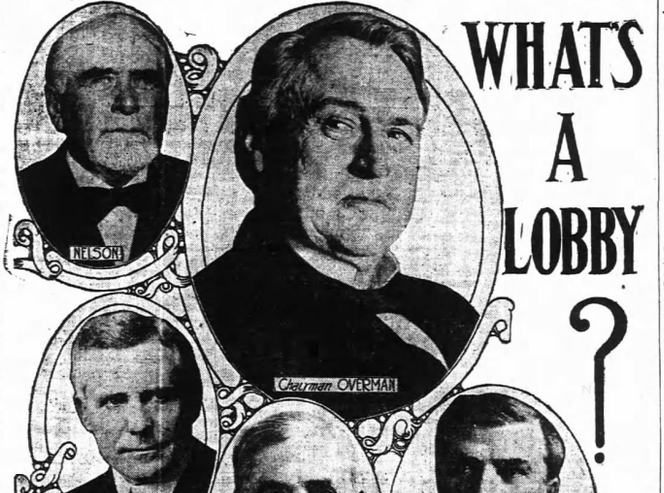
Mr. Candler stated last night that the details of the Chicago purchase were correct. He also stated that he intends to improve the site which he has just bought with a ten-story building at a cost of $300,000. The parcel adjoining the property which Mr. Candler has just bought is improved with a ten-story building.

PROMPTLY LYNCHED AFTER LEAVING JAIL

Beaumont, Texas, June 5.—Rather than remain in jail until popular feeling had subsided, Richard Galloway, negro, accused with two others of attacking a party of white men last Saturday near Newton, Texas, secured his liberty on bond yesterday. His body, riddled with bullets, and with a rope lying near, was found near Netwon this morning.

No attempt was made to molest Galloway's companions, who elected to remain in prison pending a hearing.

Stalking Wilson's "Insidious Lobby"



This is the subcommittee of the United States senate committee on the judiciary which started an investigation into the activity of the lobby at Washington. The inquiry was brought about by the statement of President Wilson calling attention of the public to the existence of a "numerous, industrious and insidious lobby." The personnel of the committee consists of Lee S. Overman, democrat, of North Carolina, chairman; Knute Nelson, republican, of Minnesota; James A. Reed, democrat, of Missouri; Albert B. Cummins, republican, of Iowa, and Thomas J. Walsh, democrat, of Montana.

WILSON VISITS SENATE WITH LIST OF NAMES

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson appeared unexpectedly at the president's room at the capitol today with the biggest list of diplomatic selections he has made since he took office.

It was the president's fifth visit to the halls of congress, but this time he found the door of the "marble room" locked, the senate had adjourned and the sergeant-at-arms was taken by surprise.

"I guess I'll have to get a duplicate key for this door," said the president smilingly, as the sergeant-at-arms hastily dispatched a messenger for the key. Hardly any senators were in the building, but Secretary Tumulty soon sent out a call for about twenty-five of them and they came in quickly from the senate office building.

Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, to be ambassador to Italy.

Justice J. W. Gerard, of New York, to be ambassador to Spain, when the bill making Madrid an embassy instead of a legation passes, probably within a few weeks.

Charles W. McAlpin, secretary of Princeton university, to be minister to the Netherlands.

Joseph E. Willard, of Virginia, to be minister to Belgium.

Major E. J. Hale, of North Carolina, to be minister to Costa Rica.

P. A. Stovall, of Georgia, to be minister to Switzerland.

Former Governor Benton McMillin, of Tennessee, to be minister to Peru.

Dr. B. L. Jefferson, of Colorado, to be minister to a South American country, probably Argentine Republic.

Frederick O. Penfield, of Pennsylvania, probably ambassador to Austria.

When the president got through talking to the senators he met the newspaper men in the corridor and explained that his visit had been chiefly about diplomatic appointments and that no official list would be made public until word was received from the various foreign governments as to the acceptability of the individuals selected. Senators James and Stone talked tariff, and inquired about the proposed amendment concerning the tobacco industry, but learned that the president had not given full consideration to it yet.

The president left the capitol as inconspicuously as he came. The attendants held an elevator for him, but the president thanked them and declined.

"I guess I'm a good democrat and can walk down," he said, with a laugh.

GIRL PASSENGER'S SKIRT CAUSES AIRMAN'S DEATH

Buc, France, June 5.—Auguste Bernard, a French aviator, and a passenger, Mme. Rose Amicel, were killed today under unusual circumstances while making a flight at the Aerodrome here.

When the aeroplane was at a considerable altitude, Mme. Amicel's skirt became entangled in the lever conections. Instantly the pilot lost control and the machine plunged to earth and was shattered

INDIANAPOLIS COPS MUST ARREST WOMEN SANS UNDERSKIRTS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5.—Women in Indianapolis who wear the new style split skirt also must wear undergarments, and the traffic squad of the police force has been asked to enforce the order, which was given out by Superintendent of Police Martin J. Hyland today.

The order was issued after Superintendent Hyland had received a letter signed "The Ladies," and which read as follows:

"We, as the ladies, ask that you prohibit the wearing of split skirts without undergarments. We hope that you will take this seriously."

GRAND JURY PROBES DETECTIVE "LEAKS"

Court Officials Worried Over News Growing Out of the Phagan Murder Mystery.

It is understood on good authority that the grand jury has been called upon to make a searching investigation in the apparent "leakage" in the detective department, which has enabled the newspapers to publish every important development in the Phagan murder mystery before such development had, often times, been brought to the official attention of the solicitor general's office. It is said that certain court officials deemed the matter of such importance that they called the attention of the grand jury to it in the hope that the responsibility might be properly placed and a repetition of the "leaks" prevented.

It is a matter of history that as soon as some new angle to the case developed it was given the widest publicity, and the case of the state, in all its details, is today known to the attorney for the defense as thoroughly as it is known to the solicitor general.

IN ANNANIAS CLUB BATTEN IS PLACED

When told by a Constitution reporter last night that Dr. Zane Batten had maintained his story of encountering nineteen scarlet women in one block of Atlanta's downtown section, Chief Beavers said:

"If Dr. Batten really told this story and maintains that it is true, then all I can say is that he is out of his sphere as secretary of a religious organization—he ought to be an official in the Ananias club. That's all.

"I don't believe that every male occupant of Atlanta's largest office building could go out on the streets at night and be accosted by as many as nineteen girls or women. They're not here, the women aren't, and, besides, they don't accost folks.

"That's why I know there is no truth in any such story as the one that comes from Philadelphia."

Marion Jackson, of the executive committee of the Men and Religion Movement, said to the reporter:

"Atlanta, from a standpoint of morality, is much cleaner than the reputation for veracity of some folks—if certain stories are true. I doubt it very seriously if as many as nineteen girls of the underworld are out on the streets at night—every street included. Dr. Batten, if his story is true, should come to Atlanta and verify his experience hereafter with veracious escort.

"They can knock all they desire, but they can successfully dispute the fact that Atlanta is the morally cleanest metropolis in America."

Attended Sociological Congress.

Dr. Batten was in Atlanta during the recent sociological congress, in which he was a prominent figure. He made many acquaintances among the religious folk of the city, and is remembered by scores. He seemed well pleased with the vice situation that has arisen from the famous campaign, and his alleged criticism is utterly at variance from his expression of commendation during his visit to the sociological congress.

In caustic arraignment of the Philadelphia pastor for his purported slander of Atlanta, Dr. John E. White, the pastor of the Second Baptist church, of Atlanta, declared: "Dr. Batten has a mania for such criticism as he has reported to have made of this city. Besides this mania with which the Atlanta minister accredits him, Dr. Batten is said by Rev. White to be affected with a vivified imagination of a sort which is valuable only to writers of lurid fiction, but which is disastrous when applied to pulpit practice.

"I have personally investigated the streets of Atlanta during the night season," said Dr. White, "with a view of apprehending women soliciting. I failed to find a single one, and was pleased, but not surprised. Atlanta is a clean town and I defy any so-called sociologist to prove to the contrary.

"It's very easy to sit a thousand miles distant and reflect on the character of a city when it comes down to the problem of proving assertions it's a hard matter—a very hard matter—especially to substantiate the criticism alleged to have been made of conditions in Atlanta."

BILL ASKS INFORMATION ON TUBERCULOSIS CURES

Washington, June 5.—Senator Bristow today introduced a bill to require the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate what value the public health service has discovered in the so-called tuberculosis cures it has investigated.

HOT ON LOBBYISTS' TRAIL, COMMITTEE EXTENDS PROBE

GRAND JURY MAY DROP VICE PROBE

Foreman Beck Delines to Talk of Probable Action of Jury—Felder to Issue a Public Statement.

"The grand jury has finished its questioning of witnesses with its adjournment, and unless members of the jury should desire that those of the several witnesses summoned, who have not been heard, should be brought before them, there is nothing more to do." This was the statement made yesterday by L. H. Beck, foreman of the grand jury, which adjourned at 2 o'clock after a three-day probe in vice conditions in Atlanta.

Foreman Beck stated that the body would meet again Tuesday, but at the instance of the solicitor, and to take up the criminal business which the present probe and the lengthy examination preceding the indictment of Leo M. Frank had greatly delayed.

Asked as to the nature of the action that the grand jury would take in regard to the results of its vice probe, the foreman replied that he was not in a position to state this.

"We have tried to follow the words of Judge W. D. Ellis, who requested this jury to look into alleged vice conditions here," he replied, "and whether we make definite indictments against offenders, or take action by giving a general report to a judge of the superior court, is something that has not been determined."

Lanford Makes Statement.

Newport Lanford, chief of detectives, was the first witness to be called Thursday morning. According to his statment the grand jury members questioned him about conditions here principally, although they also asked him in regard to the dictagraph affair, and also asked why there was a bitterness between him and Colonel Thomas B. Felder.

A. L. Colyar, Jr., who sprung into prominence as a result of the recent dictagraph row, and who is now under arrest on forgery charges in Knoxville, was next called before the grand jury. With Colyar on the stand, Secretary to Chief James L. Beavers, the grand jury closed its examination and hearing of witnesses.

It is stated that the grand jury went into great detail with Chief Lanford in regard to the preparation of a dictagraph trap for Colonel Felder, and also the attempts to prove that he had offered bribes for affidavits in the Frank case.

Whether this indicates or not the taking up and examining the charges buried between Colonel Felder and the police department in which charges of crookedness were freely used on both sides, is a question that the members of the grand jury will not discuss.

Foreman Beck merely stated that that matter had not as yet been taken up, when he was asked in regard to it. Whether his answer might indicate that the case would be taken up or not, was a point upon which he refused to throw more light.

Whisky Shipments Not Probed.

The expected taking up of the shipment of liquor into vicinity resorts has not yet appeared and J. E. Sharks, agent for the Southern Express company, who was expected before the grand jury on Wednesday, declares that no question of this nature was asked him. He stated that his appearance was due to the desire of the grand jury to get certain facts from him in connection with one of the other phases of the vice probe.

Among the witnesses summoned to the Thursday session was Eva Clark, the woman whom Chief Beavers stated that Major Woodward requested be allowed to return to her old home at 95 Jenkins street. Instead of answering the summons the woman sent a certificate from her physician to the effect that she was too ill to be present.

Felder to Issue Statement.

At the conclusion of his testimony before the body, Colonel Felder announced that he would give out for the Sunday papers and for the Associated Press a statement of the entire events leading up to the dictagraph plot laid for him and would also show how much had been added to what he really said in the conversation with E. O. Miles, G. G. Febuary and Colyar.

"I have got all the facts and can show the whole truth about that miserable affair," he stated, "and I intend to put the people of Atlanta in possession of facts that will startle them more than anything else has ever done that has been said in the whole case."

DEAD OF TWO ARMIES CREMATED ON FIELD WITHOUT CEREMONY

Brownsville, Texas, June 5.—The bodies of 110 soldiers killed in the fighting incident to the capture of Matamoras by constitutionalists Tuesday and Wednesday were piled in cordwoods, covered with wood today and the torch applied. Cremation was decided upon the quickest way of disposing of the bodies.

The dead of both forces were placed in the pyre and no word of prayer or funeral service was said. Permission was given by United States Consul Johnson to search the roof of the American consulate for bodies, a few men having been reported killed there, but a search failed to disclose any.

ATLANTA MAN IS HURT ON TRAIN NEAR MACON

Macon, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—J. E. Carleton, of Atlanta, who has interests in kaolin mines along the M., D. and S. railroad, was brought to a local sanitarium tday with a broken right arm and a badly bruised leg. Late yesterday he attempted to board a train at Atlantic, and, after getting on the platform, fell between two cars and was dragged for 100 feet before the train could be stopped.

Chairman Overman Will Ask Senate for Unlimited Time in Which to Make Sweeping Investigation.

ALL "TARIFF CALLERS" WILL BE SUBPOENAED

The Prohibition and Liquor Forces, Alaskan Railroad Forces, Labor Unions and Farmers' Organizations Included.

Washington, June 5.—The senate "lobby" investigating committee decided tonight to extend its present inquiry into a sweeping investigation of all organized efforts that have been made to influence action upon legislation of any kind pending before congress, or under consideration in the recent past.

This action was determined upon at the end of the afternoon session, after several senators had added to the testimony already given, tending to show that well organized and vigorous work is being done by commercial interests upon the sugar, wool and other tariff issues. The committee decided to subpoena practically all persons thus far mentioned by senators as among their "tariff callers," and to learn the exact nature of all organized work that is being directed toward influencing any member of congress upon any subject. Efforts of the committee will be centered first upon the sugar fight; next upon wool, and after that a full investigation will be made that will take in activities of prohibiton and liquor "lobbies," the Alaskan railroad forces, labor unions, farmers' protective organizations and practically all other organized bodies that have carried on publicity campaigns, "endless chain" letter writing or other means of influencing members of the senate or house.

"New Lobby" Found.

Senator Overman, chairman of the committee, said today that he believed the investigation already had established the fact that powerful influence was wielded upon senators by the organized forces conducting campaigns to mold the public opinion. This he said, constituted a "new style lobby" of tremendous power.

Senator Reed, a member of the committee, sent word to President Wilson during the day that he believed the testimony of Senator Randell and other witnesses already established the truth of the president's recent statement, upon which the resolution for the investigation was based, that a powerful lobby existed in Washington, at least upon the sugar tariff issue.

The decision of the committee tonight has so broadened the scope of its work that members don't know when the inquiry can be concluded. The ten-day limit fixed by Cummins resolution will expire tomorrow night, but Senator Overman will ask the senate to give him unlimited time for the probe. Thus far only senators have been examined and the senate list will be finished tomorrow.

The sergeant-at-arms of the senate was directed tonight to issue many additional subpoenas for persons wanted as witnesses.

To Call Sugar Men.

The next phase of the investigation will be to call before the committee the first men identified with the free sugar and anti-free sugar campaigns. Names of these men Senator Overman, others furnished by the members of the senate on the witness stand and still others that have been given out by Senator Overman by outside parties constitute the list of those who have been or will be subpoenaed.

Members of the senate have almost unanimously testified that no improper methods have been used to influence them and that they only have called upon them are not "lobbyists" in the sense that the term is generally used. The committee found it impossible tonight, however, to define a "lobbyist," or to fix a limit to its investigation. It was determined, therefore, to investigate all efforts that shows any sign of having been an organized or pre-arranged plan to influence congressional action.

mon church holds in sugar and woolen factories in Utah brought a lively clash between Senator Smoot and democratic members of the committee late today. Senator Smoot said the church held a small amount of stock in the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, and in the Knight Woolen Mills company, at Provo, but he resented questions by Senators Reed and Walsh that he thought carried insinuation that he represented the interests of the Mormon church at Washington.

"Here in Washington I represent all the people of Utah," he said sharply. "I don't represent Mormon or Jew or Gentile, black or white, Methodist or Presbyterian."

Senator Reed said he had not meant to insinuate that Senator Smoot was the representative of the Mormon church.

"Don't you in any way represent the church's stock, within the meaning of this investigation?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I do not," retorted Senator Smoot, "no more than you do."

To Examine Literature.

Senators Smoot, Mark Smith, Shafroth and Williams testified during the afternoon session. They produced bundles of literature sent out by various organizations and individuals. The investigating committee finally decided that it would have to pass on this literature and determine whether or not it was "misleading" or would have "pernicious effect."

Members of the committee agreed that even though the raising of money for publicity campaigns might be legitimate, the issuing of false statements or misleading public documents would be an "inadious attempt" to influence the public and members of congress.

That detectives have in some cases been used to shadow members of congress in the interest of getting certain legislative action is a point that Senator Cummins will endeavor to establish. He asked Senator Smoot today whether the latter knew of any such activity. Senator Smoot said he had "heard of it" but could give the committee no information. Senator Cummins declined to state what further witnesses would be produced or to indicate the nature of the detective work that had been done.

Senator Smoot gave the committee the names of many persons who called upon him on tariff subjects. He said he had taken no part personally in the organization of any fight against free sugar; and he did not know of the existence of a "lobby" or the use of money, further than as public advertisements indicated it.

Senator Williams, whose subcommittee has had charge of the income tax feature of the tariff bill, expressed the belief that there had been an organized effort by the insurance companies to rally policy holders against the income tax. Insurance officials probably will be asked to appear later.

R. D. Bowen, who signed a circular produced by Senator Williams, advising cotton growers to urge their senators to support a higher duty on cotton cloth; H. W. Cowan, of Texas, who has been active in the fight against free meat; A. W. Kopp, a former representative from Wisconsin, and C. H. Brown, and otto Hulbert, of Washington were subpoenaed tonight.

the crime, but who must share the humiliation flowing from its exposure.

"This however, is an evil attendant upon crime, and the courts and their officers cannot allow their sympathies for the innocent to retard the vigorous prosecution of those indicted for the commission of crime, for were it otherwise, sentiment, and not justice, would dominate the administration of our laws. HUGH M. DORSEY."

Detectives Not Disturbed.

Chief Lanford and Harry Scott apparently are not the slightest perturbed over the report that Minola McKnight, the servant girl in the Frank home, had repudiated the sensational affidavit to which she attested Tuesday afternoon. The chief declared that he did not believe the report, and that he did not think the woman would renounce her sworn statement in the manner rumored.

She will be placed on the witness stand in the Frank trial, the detectives assert, and if she denies having made the affidavit. Detectives Campbell and Starnes and two citizens will be sworn to testify that she did sign the document. The report is that she made a total denial of the statement accredited her by the detectives. She has returned to work in the Frank household.

The mother of the suspected superintendent, Mrs. L. Frank, whose home is in Brooklyn, N. Y., has arrived in Atlanta to be near her son and to attend his trial. She is stopping at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Selig, 85 East Georgia avenue, at which Frank lived with his wife. She has visited the jail frequently since coming to Atlanta, and will visit it daily throughout her visit.

Besides the reported denial of her affidavit by the servant girl, there were no developments in the Phagan mystery Thursday, the detectives say. Chief Beavers and Chief Lanford devoted their time to the grand jury to which they were summoned, while the solicitor general and his staff were employed throughout the day in the same manner.

The Fulton county board of commissioners approved a bill of $45 submitted to them by William Black, an undertaker of Marietta, for the disinterment of Mary Phagan's body in Marietta. The bill, when first presented, was protested by S. B. Turman, on the ground that it already had been given the coroner's O. K. His argument was that the coroner had no right to exercise this authority. He finally withdrew his protest.

Mrs. Frank's Letter Follows:

"Atlanta, Ga., June 5, 1913.

"Editor Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

"Dear Sir: The action of the solicitor general in arresting and imprisoning our family could not be done without voluntarily make a false statement against my innocent husband, brings a limit to patience. This wrong is not chargeable to a detective acting under the necessity of shielding his own reputation against attacks in newspapers, but of an intelligent, trained lawyer, whose sworn duty is as much to protect the innocent, as to punish the guilty. My information is that this solicitor has admitted the nolle prosequi charged against this cook, and that he had no legal right to have her arrested and imprisoned.

"The following statement from The Atlanta Journal undertakes to give the history of the arrest up to the time the woman was carried to the police station in the patrol wagon, weeping and shouting in a hysterical condition:

"The negress was arrested at the Selig residence shortly after noon Monday upon the order of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

"She was carried to the solicitor's office where officials and their chief detectives Campbell and Starnes examined her for more than an hour. The woman grew hysterical during the vigorous examination, and finally was led from the solicitor's office to the police patrol, weeping and shouting: "I am going to hang and don't know a thing about it."

"They Tortured Her."

"They tortured her for four hours with the well-known third degree process, in the manner and with the results stated in The Atlanta Constitution of June 4, as follows:

"Her husband, who was also carried to the police station at noon, was freed a few hours later, and his wife left the prison. He was present during the third degree of four hours, under which she was placed in the afternoon. He is said to have fainted, even in the presence of his wife, that she had told conflicting stories of Frank's conduct on the night of the crime.

"After she had been quizzed to a point of exhaustion, Secretary G. C. Hopkins, assisted by Chief Lanford's office, was summoned to note her statement in full.

"It was the longest statement made by the negress since her connection with the mystery. It will be used, probably, in the trial. The negress Atlanta hopes to neutralize and to offset the statement given in examination.

"That the solicitor, sworn to maintain the law, should thus falsely arrest, imprison and threaten with false charge and whom he does not even suspect, and torture her contrary to the law, and to force false evidence tending to swear away the life of an innocent man, is beyond belief.

Innocent Sufferers.

"Where will this end? My husband and my family and myself are the innocent sufferers now, but who will be the next? Is no one safe? The wife witnesses tortured will be confined to the class who are not able to employ lawyers to relieve them from the torture in time to prevent their being forced to give false affidavits, but the lives sworn away may come from any class.

"It will be impossible for the plan is to apply the torture until the desired affidavit is wrung from the sufferer. Then it ends, but not before.

"It is of no benefit that no person can be convicted of murder in any civilized country on evidence wrung from witnesses by torture. Why, then, does the solicitor continue to apply the third degree to produce testimony? How does he hope to get the jury to believe it? He can have only one hope, and that is to keep the jury from knowing the methods to which he has resorted.

"Of course, if he can torture witnesses into giving the kind of evidence he desires against my innocent husband in this case, he can torture them into giving evidence against any other man in the community in either the same or any other case. I can see only one hope. And that is, to let the public know exactly what this officer of the law is doing, and trust, as I do trust, to the sense of fairness and justice of the people.

"It is not surprising that my cook should sign an affidavit to relieve herself from torture that had been applied to her for four hours, according to the Atlanta Constitution, 'to a point of exhaustion.' It would be surprising if she would not, under such circumstances, give an affidavit.

"The torturing process can be used to produce testimony to be published in the newspapers to prejudice the case of anyone the solicitor sees fit to accuse. It is also valuable to prevent anyone stating facts favorable to the accused, because as soon as the solicitor finds it out, he can arrest the witness and apply the torture. It is hard to believe that practices of this nature will be countenanced anywhere in the world, outside of Russia.

Corroborates Husband.

"My husband was at home for lunch and in the evening at the hours he has stated on the day of the murder. He spent the whole of Saturday evening and night in my home. Neither on Saturday, nor Saturday night, nor no Sunday, nor at any other time did my husband by word or act, or in any other way, demean himself otherwise than as an innocent man. He did nothing unusual and nothing to arouse the slightest suspicion. I know him to be innocent. There is no evidence against him, except that which is produced by torture. Of course, evidence of this kind can be produced against any human being in the world.

"I have been compelled to endure without fault, either on the part of my husband or myself, more than it falls to the lot of most women to bear. Slanders have been circulated in the community to the effect that my husband and myself were not happily married, and every conceivable rumor has been put afloat that would do him and me harm, with the public, in spite of the fact that all our friends are aware that these statements are false, and all his friends and myself know that my husband is a man actuated by lofty ideals that forbid his committing the crime that the detectives and the solicitor are seeking to fasten upon him.

"I know my husband innocent. No man could make the good husband to a woman that he has been to me and be a criminal. All his acquaintances know he is innocent. Ask every man that knows him and see if you can find one that will believe he is guilty. If he were guilty, does it not seem reasonable that you could find some one who knows him that will say he believes him guilty?

"Being a woman, I do not understand the tricks and arts of detectives and prosecuting officers, but I do know Leo Frank, and his friends know that he is utterly incapable of committing the crime he is charged with, and the solicitor are seeking to fasten upon him. Respectfully yours,

"MRS. LEO M. FRANK."

HUGH M. WILLET IS ELECTE DTO POSITION OF MERCE RTRUSTEE

Hugh M. Willet, of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, and one of Atlanta's best-known business men, has been elected to the position of trustee of Mercer university. He has been placed on the prudential committee of that college, which organization is the most important of the institution, and which manages the college throughout the association.

Mr. Willet will represent Atlanta on the prudential committee. Significant of this representation with which he has been entrusted is the fact that he is the first Atlantan to be chosen for the prudential committee.

Besides being a conspicuous figure in Atlanta's business circles, Mr. Willet is also well known in the church world. He is a deacon in the First Baptist church, and has been a resident of the city for many years.

JAPAN'S LATEST NOTE DISCUSSED BY WILSON

Says the New Communication "Opens Way for Very Interesting Friendly Negotiations."

Washington, June 5.—After reading Japan's latest note on the California anti-alien land law and just before a conference with Ambassador Chinda, President Wilson today expressed the view that the new communication opened the way for very interesting and friendly negotiations."

The president had a brief conference with Secretary Bryan and had informal talk afterwards with Viscount Chinda. He had explained earlier that he did not expect to make any official reply to the Japanese ambassador, but would discuss the Tokio note orally.

The president let it be known that there was much matter for discussion in the Japanese note, but that none of the documents thus far exchanged by the two governments had in themselves suggested a solution of the land law difficulty. He indicated that the negotiations would proceed slowly and carefully, with a view to obtaining a frank expression of the opinions held by the two nations. Sooner or later, it was indicated, the meaning of the federal laws on naturalization would have to be determined by the courts, though the initiative might have to be taken by Japanese residents, as the government could not institute proceedings.

Na suggestion for arbitrating the difficulties has thus far been made, it was learned authoritatively, but white house officials have reiterated their confident expectation of an amicable settlement eventually.

cials recognize that that is the province of a paper, but they deplore the apparent ease with which the news has been secured.

The policy of Solicitor Dorsey has been one of absolute silence. To all reporters he has stated that he had nothing to give out.

Not so with the detective department. Hundreds of readers of the newspapers have learned of new angles in the Phagan case before the detective department had had time to bring the matter to the official attention of the solicitor general. At the present time the "leader man on the street has an intimate knowledge of the facts on which the state will base its case against Leo Frank. He knows just what witnesses will be called, just what they will testify to, just what affidavits will be presented and if he has kept a scrapbook he has copies of these affidavits in his possession.

The surprising thing about the whole conduct of the case is the fact that there will be no surprises.

To go back and recapitulate. The fact that the Pomby woman had made a sensational affidavit leaked out shortly after she had affixed her signature to it. The ink was scarcely dry before a Constitution reporter had seen her and she had given him the substance of its contents. Following this the "leader"

DEBATE TONIGHT OPENS CEREMONIES

Tech Students Will Discuss Recall of Judges—Prominent Educators Coming to Commencement.

The question of making the judges in Georgia, superior and higher court, subject to recall, will be argued in the Henry W. Grady Literary society debate this evening, at the Georgia School of Technology.

The debate takes place at 8 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium and the general public is cordially invited to be present. The question is formally stated as follows: "Resolved, That the judges of the state of Georgia be subject to recall."

The young gentlemen who will support the affirmative side of the question are S. D. Frankel, of Atlanta, a member of the senior class, and P. F. Raybon, of Jesup, Ga., a member of the sophomore class.

The negative will be upheld by S. A. Gayle, of Columbus, Ga., of the freshman class, and L. C. Jordan, of Atlanta, member of the sophomore class.

The judges will be Hon. Alex. C. King, of the Atlanta bar; Rev. C. W. Daniel, of the First Baptist church, and J. S. Fleet, of the Peacock-Fleet school. The debate will be presided over by Professor W. G. Boogher, of the Tech faculty. There will be special music.

Prominent Educators Coming.

HOKE SMITH INSTITUTE CLOSES FOR THE TERM

Buena Vista, Ga., June 5.—(Special.) The commencement exercises of the Hoke Smith Institute were unusually successful this year, and show the high standard of the school. The program began with a piano recital on Friday night by the pupils of the music department. The concert on Monday night by the pupils of this same department showed the thorough and excellent training which had been theirs.

The program closed on Tuesday night with the graduating exercises and a splendid literary address by Hon. W. N. McGhee, of Talbotton. The graduating class of this year was small in numbers but well equipped to meet the demands of a college education. The class of 1913 consists of Miss Martha Munro, Miss Myrtle Kilcrease and Leon Rushin.

The commencement sermon was delivered by Rev. Seals, of Fort Valley. The entire corps of teachers has been re-elected for another year, as follows: Prof. W. E. Drane, superintendent; Miss Ola Mitchell, principal and teacher of English; Miss Myrtle Rushin, teacher of Latin and History; Miss Jessie Jameson, teacher of intermediate grades; Miss Annie Collins, primary teacher; Miss Irene Woolvin, music teacher.

WARSHIP OF MEXICANS FLEEING FROM BIPLANE

San Francisco, June 5.—Officers of the United States naval collier Saturn, which arrived yesterday from Guaymas, reported that Didier Masson and his biplane had proved a source of anxiety to the Mexican federals. The day the Saturn sailed from the southern port the Mexican warship Morales made a hasty departure to sea, the reason given being that she was fleeing from the biplane and the French aviator employed by the rebels.

M'CALL APPOINTS NEW MERCER COMMITTEE

Will Hardly Nominate Jameson's Successor Before Next Baptist State Convention.

Macon, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Before leaving for his home at Quitman this morning, Judge J. C. McCall, the new president of the board of trustees of Mercer university, named the new prudential committee to succeed the one which resigned along with President Jameson, at the request of the trustees. The new committee is composed of the following: Judge J. G. McCall, chairman; Judge Hall, of the board of trustees; G. W. Garner, Macon, secretary of board of trustees; A. L. Adams, Macon; Hugh Willet, Atlanta, and E. A. Callaway, Washington. A. L. Adams was the only one of the members of the old committee to be reappointed. When the new president of Mercer is elected he will also become a member of the committee.

Judge McCall has not yet named the committee to nominate the successor to Dr. Jameson. He stated that he wanted more time in which to consider probable candidates to this important committee, and also desired to confer with prominent Baptists of the state before taking any definite step. While Judge McCal has the power to call the trustees together at any time he desires, it is hardly probable that another meeting will be held before the next regular Baptist convention in November.

Judge McCall and President Sellers, of Mercer, today held a conference, at which the prudential committee matter was co-operation between the members of the faculty with a view to increasing the enrollment at Mercer during the fall term. All of the members of the faculty have pledged themselves to assist in every way possible, and today this subject was discussed at length. The former students of the university to rally to the aid of President Sellers and begin at once the work with a view of putting Mercer in the front rank of southern colleges.

Judge McCall was silent today on the question of abolition of the Greek letter societies. He said that while the question had been tabled for the present, it was liable to be called at any time. It is known that the non-fraternity men are not at all pleased with the turn of affairs, and they are already laying their plans to renew the fight to have the "frats" abolished.

IN DEPUTY'S CUSTODY COLYAR VISITS WIFE

Declares Effort to Get Him Out of State Is Due to Parties in Dictagraph Affair.

A. L. Colyar, Jr., one of the principal figures in the dictagraphing of Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Mayor James G. Woodward, who was arrested yesterday morning by Sheriff C. W. Mangum on a warrant from Knoxville, was released later in the day in custody of Deputy J. W. Chambers in order that he might remain at the bedside of his sick wife.

Pending the sheriff's action in according to his request that he be not placed in jail, Colyar took out a plea for a habeas corpus, acting as his own attorney, although he later retained John Y. Smith to represent him. The habeas corpus will be heard at 10 o'clock Saturday morning by Judge John T. Pendleton.

Colyar, who was recently arrested by the city police and held for a short time, claims that Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, will never sign a requisition for him, and that the action taken to get him out of the state is due to certain parties to the dictagraph affair, whom he does not call by name.

Sheriff Mangum stated that Colyar would be allowed to go in custody of the deputy until this morning. He declared that he had no authority to accept any bond Colyar might offer until he was advised by the Tennessee authorities to do this, but that he had telegraphed asking if he should accept a satisfactory bond, but up to a late hour Thursday night had received no answer.

Whether Colyar, who, it is understood, is wanted in Knoxville upon a charge of forgery, will be thrown into jail today or will be allowed bond is something upon which the sheriff states that he is not yet in a position to say.

CORDELE MAY SECURE SEABOARD RELAY SHOPS

Cordele, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Since the shops of the Seaboard Air Line railway at Americus are being dismantled and practically the entire enterprise removed to Jacksonville, there is considerable discussion over the possibility that the railway company will establish relay shops at Cordele. It is known that Cordele has been discussed in official circles of the road as the location for such an enterprise.

In fact, it is gathered from authentic information that more than a year ago city officials of Cordele were conferred with by parties interested in the railroad company, and that it was definitely understood at that time that the proposition of locating the main shops of this division of the road at this city would be taken under special advisement. At that time the company asked an inducement of $50,000 and grants of certain lands to establish the shops.

The removal of the shops from Americus, it is understood, was largely due to the 16-hour law, the location of the shops there making it disadvantageous to the road to comply with this law in freight schedules between Americus and Savannah.

Therefore, the feasibility of locating the shops here suggested itself to the officials of the road, and the belief is entertained here that this plan has not been entirely abandoned by the company.

CAUGHT BY THE TIDE ON REEF AND DROWNED

Charleston, S. C., June 5.—Charles Ashley, a young lawyer, of Aiken, S. C., was caught on a reef by the incoming tide at Sullivan's Island yesterday afternoon, according to reports received here this morning, and not knowing the way back to the beach stepped into water over his head and was drowned in sight of friends unable to help.

The body has not yet been found. Mr. Ashley is survived by a widowed mother.

MAY FAVOR REMOVAL OF DEAF INSTITUTE

Mutes, in Silent Macon Convention, Discuss Proposition—Will Take Vote Tomorrow.

Macon, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Two hundred members of the Georgia Association of the Deaf are in Macon attending the third annual convention of the association. The principal question that is being considered at the present convention is the removal of the state school for the deaf now located at Cave Springs and it is probable that tomorrow the convention will vote on the proposition to establish the school in Macon, as the most central point in the state.

It is claimed that the Cave Springs school is inaccessible and therefore does not benefit the deaf people of the state as much as if it were more centrally located.

A movement was started this morning to secure uniform constitution and by-laws similar to the one now used by the national association. This movement is fathered by J. W. Michaels, of Knoxville, Tenn., who has attended several national conventions.

Speeches in Sign Language.

All speeches and discussions in the convention today were in the sign language. President J. N. Marchman in his annual address stated that the association had experienced a rapid growth since its organization three years ago. Much has already been done through the association much has been done to increase the facilities for educating the deaf children of the state and urged the members to continue their efforts along that line.

In discussing the movement to have a centrally located state school Mr. Marchman stated that he was in full sympathy with such a plan and thought the little deaf and dumb children of south Georgia should be given facilities for securing an education.

Addresses were delivered this morning by a number of well-known Macon men, Mayor John T. Moore extending the official welcome on behalf of the city.

Tomorrow morning officers will be elected and the next meeting place selected. At 2 o'clock the visitors will be given a car ride over the city, following a barbecue at noon. From 5 to 7 p. m. the moving picture houses of the city will be thrown open to the visitors and at 8 o'clock in the evening a public entertainment will be given at the auditorium, participated in by the members of the association.

Atlanta Woman Talks.

This afternoon Mrs. C. L. Jackson, of Atlanta, delivered an address on the social evils of the present day. She declared that she knew of no deaf woman who lives a life of shame. "Unhappily, there are cases of seduction," she said, "but frequently seduction is followed by marriage, and the number of deaf women with children born out of wedlock is small."

THREATENS COMPETITOR OF SHOE MACHINERY CO.

Boston, June 5.—"Nothing but the blue sky" was the description Sidney W. Winslow, president of the United Shoe Machinery company, gave of what was in store for Frank W. Merrick and Clarence S. Luitweiler, after they refused to sell out to him, according to the testimony today of Mr. Luitweiler in the government's dissolution proceedings against the United company.

Mr. Luitweiler is treasurer and Mr. Merrick president of the Union Lock Stitch company of East Boston, manufacturers of stitching machines, in competition with the United Shoe Machinery company.

Both testified that Winslow, in 1905, told them after they had refused to sell: "I'll see that you will never make a dollar."

STUART NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA

Richmond, Va., June 5.—Henry Carter Stuart, of Russell county, candidate for governor of Virginia in the democratic primary on August 5, was unofficially declared the party nominee this afternoon when entries closed without opposition to his candidacy. The state democratic committee will later declare Mr. Stuart the official nominee. Four years ago he entered the primary against William Hodges Mann and St. George Tucker, but was forced to withdraw on account of the serious illness of his wife, who was in Europe. Thus far there has been no direct indication that the republicans will nominate a candidate for governor, although even in that event Mr. Stuart's election is assured, Virginia being overwhelmingly democratic.

Power of Newspaper Advertising

The manufacturer who desires to create a direct demand for his goods in any particular community MUST use the newspapers.

No other advertising medium can do the work as well or as quickly.

A recently printed article by a firm of widespread reputation said in relation to newspaper advertising:

Newspaper advertising cuts out duplication and other waste.

It enables you to sectionalize or nationalize.

It enables you to advertise whenever you please.

It permits you to reach all worth-while consumers.

It dovetails your advertising with your sales work.

It enables you to adapt your advertising to any climate, advertise economically, and, further, enables you to try out plans without heavy expenditure of money.

And every line of the foregoing applies with emphasis to THE CONSTITUTION and papers in its class.

If you want quick results you must advertise in the newspapers.

AGED CHATHAM SHERIFF IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Thomas F. Screven Never Held Office Until After He Passed Seventieth Year.

Savannah, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Captain Thomas F. Screven, sheriff of Chatham county, died this morning, after a lingering illness. He was 79 years old.

For several months Captain Screven had been seriously ill, due to advanced age and a general breakdown. For years he had been in feeble health, but he was not a man who would give up as long as he had the strength to keep him on his feet.

Captain Screven was the son of Dr. and Mrs. James P. Screven. Educated at the University of Georgia, he subsequently studied medicine under the late Dr. R. D. Arnold, with Dr. John D. Martin and Dr. William Duncan. But he never practiced medicine, electing to become a rice planter.

He never sought nor held public office prior to 1906 after the political upheaval in Chatham county. Those who were managing the reformers chose him for the position of sheriff and he was elected. He succeeded himself at each successive election, without having to make any specially hard fight for the place.

Captain Screven was married twice. His first wife was Miss Moore, of Athens. Some years after her death he married Miss Sallie Buchanan, daughter of Admiral Franklin Buchanan, of Maryland. He is survived by his wife, three grandchildren, Miss Mary Wilcox, T. Foreman Screven and Miss May Bond Screven, children of the late John Screven who married Miss May Bond.

NEW ADMINISTRATION TO ENFORCE FOOD LAW

Atlantic City, N. J., June 5.—There has been and will be no step backward in the enforcement of the pure food law under the new administration, Dr. Carl Alsberg, chief of the bureau of chemistry, told the National Wholesale Grocers' association, in annual session here. He added, however, that the administration of the law will gain in effectiveness if coupled with a policy of education and instruction."

Dr. Alsberg said he hoped to make the chemistry bureau as valuable to the consumer as the department of agriculture as a whole had been to the farmer.

THOMASVILLE HAS FIRST COTTON BLOOMS

Thomasville, Ga., June 5.—(Special.) Cotton blooms are being exhibited now, the first brought in here being from the thirty-acre field of D. M. Minton, about five miles east of Thomasville. The bloom was early fully developed and had already begun to turn pink.

Mr. Minton's crop is in a very fine condition and the plant will average fifteen or more inches in height. There are a number of other fine crops in the same neighborhood, as well as in other parts of the county and the present indications are that the predictions as to a very late crop will not be verified.

DEFENSE RESTS CASE IN CONSPIRACY TRIAL

Ateaux Denies He Was in Plot to Plant Dynamite on Premises of Strikers.

Boston, Mass., June 5.—After introducing several witnesses to corroborate testimony given by the defendant yesterday, the defense of Frederick E. Atteaux, in the dynamite conspiracy case, rested today.

Among witnesses for Atteaux were William B. Watts, former chief prosecutor of the Boston police, and A. A. Corby, of Lawrence. Their stories tended to confirm the version of the dynamite affair given by Atteaux, who set up that John J. Breen and Ernest W. Pitman hatched the plot to "plant" dynamite on the premises of textile strikers at Lawrence.

On cross examination Watts said he thought Breen was trying to blackmail Atteaux.

FOR $40 WAGER ROLLS WHEELBARROW 30 MILES

Perry, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—George B. Wells, a young man of the city, took up a "dare" that he would not roll a wheelbarrow to Macon for a purse of $10, made by his friends. A subscription was started and a purse of $40 was raised. On Monday morning at 3:18 o'clock Mr. Wells started between the handles of a wheelbarrow from the courthouse on his journey to roll the wheelbarrow to the courthouse in Macon, thirty miles. At 2:40 o'clock he completed the journey, rolling his wheelbarrow up to the courthouse in Macon. He came back in an automobile this morning, arriving here about 8 o'clock.

A REFRESHING INCIDENT.

A recent incident in Indianapolis, Ind., reported elsewhere on this page, dramatizes on a small scale the whole story of the burial of sectionalism and the renationalism of America. Deeds, not words, are the witnesses in this case to the complete obliteration of sectional bitterness.

Surely, one need go no farther than this incident to realize how genuine and widespread is the dissolution of sectionalism. In the Indianapolis case, as in others, it is deeds and not merely words that speak. These sleeping confederates could not have been more tenderly remembered in their own beloved Dixie. The great chorus of renationalization is dominant. The protest of the irreconcilable, on either side, is so rare as to be exceptional. It excites pity rather than censure. Verily, we are, north and south, "back in the house of our fathers."

REAL CHANCE TO INVESTIGATE.

Sinister and disquieting rumors about the receivership of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad are going the rounds. If half of these criticisms are based on truth congress could well afford to quit exploding blank cartridges about pink tea lobbyists and discharge real cartridges at the evils here alleged. The pink joy-ride probe at Washington is negligible by the side of what is charged in the Frisco deal.

In the first place, the receivership seems to have been authorized on an entirely ex parte hearing—that piratical old device that brought so much disrepute on the railroad business heretofore. A system valued at scores of millions and representing the investments of thousands of people, was, it is claimed, thrown into the courts without the slightest opportunity for the other side or for the security-holders to be heard. If this charge is true the fact should be established and those responsible for it should be punished. The business standards of today condemns the old policy of railroad "scuttle." If the Frisco receivership is a case of scuttle we ought to know it and steps ought to be taken to the end of preventing a repetition.

One of the gravest charges is that the management of the road, only last April, disposed of $8,000,000 worth of securities in France virtually under false pretenses. They represented that the property was in first-class shape. They said nothing whatever about the financial clouds impending. On the strength of these pleas they sold the securities in France at a much higher rate than in America, so absolute was the confidence in the representations made. And within less than two months comes this midnight receivership, apparently without a word of warning to the foreign security-holders or anyone else, with the exception of the parties immediately interested. This procedure appears to be a direct blow at our international credit. We need foreign capital as never in the history of this country. But how can we bid for it if Europe fears we are simple and unashamed gold-brick artists, and that our courts are winking at such proceedings?

Congress may well divert some of its energies now directed at senatorial pink teas to this grave issue, if, as is charged, the matter comprises a national scandal it should be disclaimed by the nation and positive measures taken to make impossible a recurrence.

WHITEHALL STREET REGRADE.

The finance committee yesterday took definite action toward the improvement of Whitehall street by putting $3,500 in the June apportionment sheet to be expended on improving that part of the street between Mitchell and Garnett streets. The improvement is to be made in strict accordance with the plans of the city engineer. But the appropriation affects only that section of Whitehall between Garnett and Mitchell. No succeeding council is committed in any way. The completion of the improvement between Garnett and Mitchell will involve the expenditure of $11,200. The difference between the cost of the completed work and the city appropriation will be borne by the property-owners, the county doing the work. The city council will, of course, approve this item without question.

The original plans for the improvement of Whitehall street will be executed in due time, and this part will be finished this year. To meet the financial exigencies caused by the crematory tangle and to avoid binding any subsequent council, the work must be done in sections—each standing by itself. Between Mitchell and Garnett the grade will be changed so that at Trinity avenue it will be lowered eight feet. When the next council takes up the work, as it assuredly will, it will find the Whitehall improvement completed to Garnett street, and it can then proceed to the completion of the regrade.

In the meantime, property-owners between Mitchell and Garnett, knowing now where they stand, can proceed with permanent improvements without delay or uncertainty. There is no question that council will approve the recommendation of the finance committee. Whitehall has waited long enough for this improvement. The entire city is interested in it.

PAVING PEACHTREE

Peachtree street has never in its history been well paved from one end to the other —and all at the same time. Whenever one part has been in good order others have not been so. There has never been a time when any sort of vehicle would have been justified in leaving Five Points for Buckhead, assured of safe and comfortable passage all the way.

Such a condition should obtain with no street, and least of all with the most important thoroughfare in the city and the county, and Peachtree merits that distinction. Day in and day out it is called upon to accommodate more traffic than any other one street in any southern city. And this traffic comes from every part of the city and county. The upkeep of the street is not a local issue. It affects every section of the community.

From Sixth to Fifteenth streets Peachtree has just been resurfaced. But from Fifteenth to Buckhead it is in worse condition than ever. In many places it is impassable and traffic is often compelled to detour to side routes.

Fortunately, the county commissioners have committed themselves to the relief of this condition. At their latest meeting action was postponed until the special meeting of Tuesday. It is to be hoped that they will then authorize the immediate improvement of this stretch of the street. The matter is one that interests the entire community. The traffic demands upon Peachtree will be especially heavy with the current summer season. For the convenience of city and suburban traffic and the safety of life, no time should be lost in placing this link in good condition.

SOMEWHAT STARTLING

> The Portland Journal, after having read what Miss Adela Parker, one of the high school teachers of Seattle, said at a meeting upon the university campus the other day in which these words were used: "Perhaps all of us would be happier if we had a trace of negro blood in us"—published this:
>
> An open forum has been in progress protesting against the Japs. Miss Parker, participating in behalf of open immigration, is startling and unfortunate. Perhaps she did not realize what she was saying, but a high school teacher should not be a loose talker.
>
> Has Miss Parker studied the impact of the remark, what is her plan for getting a dash of negro blood in us? Does she not know that a dash of negro blood and a dash of white blood tie at the point of much guilt? Is her suggestion a compliment to whites and has she given one good reason why a proposing something condemned by all ranking people?

Well, well, who'd a-thought it! Here they are on the Pacific slope tearing their hair and having a fit every minute about a negligible percentage of Japs owning a negligible percentage of land in California.

And here is a Pacific state high school teacher, assumed to represent intelligence, wanting to inject a "dash of negro blood" in the white race. No wonder our Portland and Seattle contemporaries protest at the suggestion.

A literary exchange asks: "Does poetry pay?" And a grouch of a critic replies: "Sometimes—when the author wants preferred position, next good reading matter."

It is said that a congressman received this word recently from a tired constituent: "Do hurry up and bring the tariff down, and come on home where you belong."

If they don't can the talk, some senator will be accused of being interested in a windmill.

Gossip Caught in Corridors Of the National Capitol

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., June 5.—(Special.)—As a means of building up the American merchant marine, the house put in the Underwood tariff bill a provision that goods imported in American bottom should be given the benefit of a reduction in customs duties amounting to 5 per cent.

This paragraph has aroused protests from many foreign countries who have treaties with the United States guaranteeing to them the rights of "the most favored nation." They hold that under these treaties the 5 per cent differential would work a discrimination.

President Wilson, after conferring with the state department and the members of the senate finance committee, has consented to the clause being stricken out.

However, the house is overwhelmingly in favor of the provision, and adopted it in caucus on the tariff by a five-to-four vote. If the senate strikes it out, the house will put it back and the dispute must be fought out in conference.

Advocated by Thomas Jefferson.

Mr. Underwood drafted the above provision from a tariff bill signed by Thomas Jefferson, the father of the democratic party. He believes in it and does not agree that it violates any treaties.

The existing treaties containing the "favored nation" clause were made many years ago and were based on reciprocity, says the house leader. Now this country has no merchant ships and reciprocity under tariff laws has vanished. Moreover, the right to terminate the conventions after the expiration of the term fixed was reserved. A stipulation to each party. So the provision of this right can not be questioned by either party, nor can other parties offer valid objections.

To Aid Merchant Marine.

"Other countries discriminate in favor of their ships," said Mr. Underwood, "and I believe in the democratic principle of discrimination in favor of American ships in our tariff duties. It was the policy of the fathers to built up our merchant marine from a point where it was carrying 17 per cent of our commerce to a point where it was carrying 90 per cent of American commerce in a period of seven years. It does not place additional burdens upon the people; it is not a policy of doubtful constitutionality, but one that has been tried and proven effective. It is a policy by which we can restore the American flag to the seas and the American ships to our commercial trade. It is a policy that will enable us to build up the export trade of the American people, and to find foreign markets for our surplus products in agriculture and manufacture. It is a policy that will restore the balance of commerce as well as trade to our nation, and will ultimately overcome the necessity of our paying a foreign balance in gold to European nations and will bring prosperity to all lines of industry."

Thus spoke Mr. Underwood in the house in February 26, 1910, in discussing "American Ships and Foreign Commerce."

Of course the reason assigned for removing this clause from the Underwood bill is that it violates treaty obligations. Mr. Underwood in his speech quoted from a pamphlet issued by William W. Bates, president of the Shipping Association of America, of whom he said: "There is no man in America better advised and informed on these questions." In this pamphlet Mr. Bates takes the position that the agreements amount to nothing, and have long since terminated, and that "we relinquished no rights whatever by granting a privilege for a term of years." Further, he charges: "Besides, in point of fact, our rivals have paid no attention to the spirit and true object of these conventions, the doing without ship protection (in the contrary all of them have resorted to protective devices of some sort."

This is quite true. It would be hard to find a foreign nation which does not in some manner discriminate in favor of its ships. Germany subsidizes her mail carrying vessels, and on all government rails in the empire freight to ports designed for German vessels is carried 33 1-3 per cent lower than freight for foreign ships. England puts up large bonuses for the building of ships that fly the British flag, and in every way possible encourages her merchant marine. All other countries follow some policy of this character except the United States, and the result is seen in the statement that since this government has abandoned the policy of discrimination in duties on foreign goods in favor of American ships, the American flag, which once dominated the seas in commerce, has practically disappeared.

A reduction of the tariff of 5 per cent on all goods imported into the United States in American ships would give the American ship owner an advantage over the foreign ship owner in payment of duties of from ten to fifteen millions of dollars annually. This would not fall as a burden on anyone, of course, would enable the American ship owner to charge nearly the amount of the discriminating duty as additional freight rates, but it would not increase the cost of the goods imported in this country a single dollar over what they otherwise would be.

The president consented to this clause being cut out, because of the treaties and because he thought that we were bound by these treaties. He, however, as has been pointed out, good authorities on international law who do not agree in this view. In addition to this there can be no question of the right of congress to repeal such treaties if they think it wise to do so. This question was decided by the supreme court in the Chinese exclusion act.

In the meantime it is quite certain that when the differences in the house and senate conferences will insist upon the clause, or one similar to it remaining in the bill or on a definite understanding that something will be done for the benefit of the merchant marine.

Quick Lunch for Policemen.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

In Glasgow, Scotland, the police on night duty have facilities for warming food and tea at a main street telephone and signal boxes. To this end the boxes are fitted with electrical hot plates, which can be switched on to the corporation mains and utilized for warming food or drink. Twenty minutes are allowed for supper, and the current is so arranged that the heater element can not be left under current when not in use, even if the user omits to switch off.

The Value of Research.

(From Popular Mechanics.)

According to Dr. W. R. Whitney, in charge of the General Electric company research laboratories, the advances in industrial electric lighting alone in this country in the last ten years represent a saving of $248,000,000 a year or nearly a million dollars a day. He also calls attention to the fact that as a result of investigations with the mercury arc, his company has already had a sale of over a million dollars extra. There are a great many concerns in this country spending over a hundred thousand dollars annually on research.

Confederate Dead in Indiana Are Lauded on Memorial Day

Editor Constitution: During the winter of 1863-4 about sixteen hundred confederate soldiers died while prisoners at Camp Morton in this city, and were buried here in Greenlawn cemetery. On the 30th of May, 1898, the writer purchased some flowers and accompanied by perhaps a dozen comrades, repaired to this cemetery and decorated the graves of these southern soldiers. My personal esteem for the valor of the soldiery of the south had many times suggested the idea of paying tribute to their memory, and the generous response of the young men of the southern states to the call issued by President McKinley in 1898 impelled me to thus honor these brave men sleeping within our borders, regardless of any censure my act might bring upon me. The following year we again decorated the confederate soldiers' graves, and the local press commended our action. In 1900 the grand army took the matter off my hands, and have ever since conducted these Memorial Day services for both the confederate and union soldiers who are buried in this cemetery. This year two young men delivered addresses, one for the Gray, and the other for the Blue. And this brings me to the purpose of my letter to you. Mr. Edward W. Holdt, a young attorney of this city, delivered the address oh behalf of the Gray on May 30 last, and I am enclosing a copy of his address which I believe will commend itself to you and your people.

In this connection I might mention another matter which would no doubt be an item of interest to your readers. The federal government has erected a monument in Greenlawn cemetery at a cost of $8,000, bearing on a bronze tablet the names of the confederate soldiers who are buried here. It has occurred to me that these names should be published in some paper of general circulation in the south, so that their friends might have an opportunity of learning their place of burial. If your paper would care to publish such a list I would be glad to forward the same to you for that purpose.

I was a soldier in the union army, but have the highest regard for the valor and sincerity of purpose of the soldiers of the confederacy.

Yours very truly,
WM. W. ROBBINS.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 2, 1913, care Circuit Court.

Mr. Holdt's Address.

Mr. Holdt's address, the manuscript of which was enclosed with the above letter, is too long to be published in full, but it contains many gems of thought and is filled with a splendid fraternal spirit.

The outstanding statement of the speech is to the effect that the south was morally right in her demand for secession, and fought with bleeding hearts and hands for the sake of principle.

"This is not a day of celebration," said Mr. Holdt. "Sectional pride and the glorification of armies should have no part in this program. This is a day of dedication. It is indeed an hour of consecration.

"We have gathered here to do homage to American soldiers, living and dead, who fought in our civil war a half century or more ago. That war, which passed over the land and left its mark on each brow and its shadow in each household, is long passed by and we are once more a united, prosperous people. The heroes of that struggle have almost all crossed the Great Divide and are fraternizing on the farther shore.

"Those who survived the struggle and endured the battle of life until this hour have long since forgotten their differences. With a common hope and a common destiny they have bound themselves together by the ties of a common brotherhood."

South Was Morally Right.

Outlining the events leading up to the war, Mr. Holdt then told how the southern states were sternly defending what they believed was their inherent right—to decide the question of slavery for themselves.

"The contention of the south, promoted by a desire for a government sustained by the consent of the governed, was the hope of man for centuries. The early convention of the north, prompted only by patriotism and a desire for a united republic, was but the dream of a generation. Had the right to secession been decided by the relative moral merits of the two contending master ideas, we doubt not but that the verdict would have been in favor of the south. But instead, the question was decided by a presumptuous appeal to swordcraft. . . . The story of the civil war, stupendous in its causes, its events and its consequences, has been told over and over again—sometimes with a feeling of hatred towards one section of the country or the other—sometimes in eulogy of the boys in blue or the boys in gray.

Time for Truth to Be Known.

"But the time has now fully come when there is no longer a cause for the suppression of the truth with respect to that war. There is room now in its history of which any part of the American people need be ashamed. The measureless courage and the all-defiant devotion to duty of the soldiers of both sides cannot be dimmed in by geographical lines.

"The superb strategy of Grant, the unconquerable endurance of Lee, the splendid powers of Stonewall Jackson, the picturesque achievements of Phil Sheridan, the extraordinary charge of Pickett at Gettysburg, are all subjects of pride and satisfaction to the American people, in every part of the union. The great manufacturing cities of the north, the lordly and fabulous cotton fields of the south, are today the common heritage of all our people. It is indeed a wonderful truth that America, after a death struggle between the two sections of its people, should so soon be thus completely reunited."

UNTO THE THIRD AND FOURTH GENERATION

By Philip Weltner, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia

In a forgotten corner of potter's field lies a grave. The dirt is piled into a tiny mound. A simple stone, unmarked, stands at its head. Beneath it rests what was once a baby. It had come into the world a mass of sores. Sight, it never had. The child's last breath was almost its first. Charity folded the little hands across its chill, white breast. It sleeps in peace.

A policeman stood on the corner. Past him reeled an old man. "Drunk again." What would it serve to make an arrest. The policeman allowed him to stagger by.

In the city prison was a young woman. Her face was uncanny, so marred by sin. Her body was black and blue from the use of the needle. It quivered in blind craving for the drug. It was pitiful. Once a toy for daatards, now a sponge for dirty dregs.

Did she remember the baby? Did her conscience burn for the murder she had done in the unborn? Did the old man feel the dull throb of remorse for the shame of it? Did there filter through his sickened senses the horror of it all? Did he know of the grandchild, cursed in its cradle?

On he careened to his empty house, as he had done a thousand times before, as he had done when the woman in the city prison was still a girl, unacquainted with vice.

Out west a great river rages down its mammoth bed. It tops the dikes they built to hold it back. Here and there levees are weakening. A hundred men, a thousand, yes, ten thousand, if need be, work night and day to keep it in.

Vice is a surging flood. It breaks upon the human soul and floods it with its ruin. Men stand by and watch the doom. They moralize. There is a call; stand to and help. Build back the crumbling walls.

These are unvarnished facts. Will our legislature hear the call? The legislatures of thirty-four states have answered. The need is great. Georgia must provide an industrial training school for wayward girls.

Home Industry.

Editor Constitution: I have written in favor of home industries, demanding from manufacturers the use of Atlanta labor and from merchants and consumers more protection to home industries as the only way to make our city a prosperous city. It is well known that the industrial city attracts the industrial man and where there is a city of high industrial reputation there the industrial man will go to establish his business, for the reason that the goods sell easy.

In making and selling goods there are two necessary experiences and capitals, the experience and the capital to make the goods and the experience and the capital to sell them and give to the retail merchants the necessary credit.

This union of jobbers and manufacturers is as old as the industrial and commercial life of the world, and I would never break this old concert. All I want is to dignify the Atlanta industrial label and let Atlanta be known as the mother of her industries; to let the whole country know that Atlanta is a city that produces as refined industrial goods as any city in the United States; then her industrial reputation will be known and new industries will come and wealth and happiness will be spread throughout our community.

The Book Bill.

Editor Constitution: Will you please ask your readers to answer the following on the basis that Georgia is now spending one million dollars each year for school books? In Ontario primers cost 4 cents; in Georgia, 25 cents. What would one million dollars worth of primers cost the buyers in Ontario at the ratio of 4 cents to 25 cents? And what per cent more are we paying than the people of Ontario?

I ask this, because the answer will give a faint idea of the money the poor people in Georgia are just giving away. I ask you to publish the answers so everybody will know the truth.

Ontario is having her school books edited by her minister of education, and then printed by competitive bids.

Is there any reason on earth or in heaven why Georgia cannot do the same? If we cannot, what reason can anyone give why we cannot?

If our superintendent of education is competent to select good school books, it seems as if he might be able to edit a few.

How It Strikes Colonel Colley.

Editor Constitution: All of our people have followed with a great deal of interest the developments of the Phagan case, and while we have differed as to the guilt or innocence of Mr. Frank, there has been no difference among us in regard to the allegations of attempted bribery upon the part of Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Mayor Woodward.

If this man Febuary stated to them that he had proof that certain officials upon whom the people were compelled to depend for the protection of their lives, liberty and property, were guilty of graft and betraying the trust reposed in them—if this be true, why should not Colonel Felder and Mayor Woodward endeavor to develop it, and what would be wrong in their paying from their own pockets the funds necessary to obtain this positive and legal proof? What crime was committed by them, and what violation of professional ethics? Who would complain of it? Could the public complain of it?

Wise Candy Kid.

(From The Atchison Globe.)

When a Kuhlidge young lady went driving with a young man not long ago she saw a big box of candy on the seat of the buggy as she stepped in and she was tickled to death. The young man did not present her with the candy, however, but "passed" the box, about every two miles of the drive. When they returned to her home the young man handed the box toward the young lady, and she gripped it with a "mine-at-last" sort of sigh. "Take a piece into the house with you," said the young man, holding on to his end of the box. "T-t-take two pieces," he added, generously. It is said the lower layer of candy in that box is still intact, although the young man has taken six other girls driving since then, and it is thought the candy will hold out until fall.

TO REGRADE TWO WHITEHALL BLOCKS

A $3,500 Appropriation by Council Insures Completion of Work Between Mitchell and Garnett.

The regrading of at least a part of Whitehall street—the two blocks between Mitchell and Garnett streets—which several days ago appeared a lost cause by reason of the crimp the purchase of the crematory had put in the city's finances, is now an assured thing, city council at its adjourned session Thursday afternoon having appropriated $3,500 for the execution of this work.

The citizens and property owners agitating the Whitehall street regrading, who had asked for $47,248 with which to do the work, were pleased with the effort of the finance committee and the council, under the stringent circumstances, to make good in the promise of aid by the $3,500 appropriation, and will raise by private subscription the remainder of the $11,200 which the estimates will be necessary to complete the regrading of the two blocks.

The county has agreed to furnish the labor incident to the regrading. The plan is to regrade the blocks between Mitchell and Garnett streets in accordance with the plans submitted by Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of the construction department, which calls for an eight-foot cut at Trinity avenue.

Actual work is scheduled to start about October 15.

It is expected that the completion of the entire contemplated regrading will be taken up next year.

How Money Was Raised.

To make the appropriation of $3,500 for the Whitehall street work, the finance committee Thursday afternoon submitted to council a revision of the June appropriation sheet.

To find the money for the Whitehall street regrading, the finance committee cut $1,000 from the $4,000 appropriated for the opening of Ashby street, $2,000 more from the $5,000 appropriation for the widening of Bells Ferry road, while the remaining $500 was taken from the city's $4,000 insurance appropriation. It is believed that none of the items from which the subtractions were made will be materially affected.

Captain Clayton stated Thursday afternoon that it had been estimated that the Mitchell street work could be carried out as planned with $5,000. As for the Hellwood avenue work, he said that, in view of the fact that this is a widening proposition and not a regrading proposition, the remaining $3,000 of the original apportionment for this work would be made to go as far as possible, and that if $5,000 was not enough with which to do all the proposed widening the remainder could be taken up next year.

Change in Regrading Plan.

The unexpected contingency of the crematory purchase, which blocked the possibility of the original appointment for the Whitehall street work, has caused a change in the plan for carrying out this work. Instead of following the first plan of regrading the entire street from Mitchell to Windsor street, a system of regrading the street by sections has been adopted, which, it is believed, will in the end accomplish the ultimate object of establishing a uniform grade for the whole street.

The proposition of regrading the first section, from Mitchell to Garnett street, will be taken up as a proposition independent from any part of the remainder of the contemplated work. The appropriation of $3,500 for this work involves no subsequent council in any manner. It is believed, however, that next year the property owners will be able to get another appropriation which will be sufficient to complete all or at least another section of the work from Garnett to Windsor streets.

ROME WOMAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING STROKE

Rome, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Jane Allen, aged 74, of Cedburg, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon by lightning during a severe thunder storm. The oppressive heat in the house caused her to go to the front porch. She was leaning against a pillar when the bolt struck her.

She screamed and fell, and died instantly. A small hole, as if made by a bullet, was made in her forehead.

BANKRUPTCY IS FILED AGAINST WYATT CO.

Declaring an indebtedness in the sum of $2,452, the Donovan Provision company, incorporated, together with the Fox River Butter company, asking for $6,453, and John Morrell & Co., for setting a claim amounting to $1,652.73, have filed with Deputy Clerk Hood, of the United States court, a petition in bankruptcy against C. S. Wyatt, doing business in Atlanta as the "Wyatt C. D. P. company," at the same time lodging with the papers to file a request for a receiver.

All of the creditors, as well as the alleged bankrupt, are residents of Atlanta, and are engaged in business in the city. While the papers of file indicate a total indebtedness aggregating $1,052.36, the full amount of assets is not presented.

WAYCROSS RAILROADERS TO HEAR CHIEF STONE

Waycross, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Saturday and Sunday will be red letter days in Waycross for the Railroad Young Men's Christian association, members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and their friends. They have as their guest for the days Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who will deliver an address at the Grand theater Sunday afternoon. Saturday night he will be the guest of honor at a big reception to be tendered him at the Railroad Young Men's Christian association. It is expected that there will be a large out-of-town attendance here when Mr. Stone lectures, as his visit is of big interest not only to this immediate section, but to the railroad fraternity throughout the state.

ATHENS MAN COMPILES BOOK ON PRESIDENTS

Athens, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Dr. William Buchanan, of this city, who is himself a descendant of close relatives of at least two presidents, Madison and Buchanan, has just printed a little volume entitled "From Washington to Wilson." It is a catechism on the presidents, covering in brief questions and answers the following points about each president: Where and when born, when Inaugurated, from what state, age, number of terms, maiden name of wife and of mother, when and where died, age, where buried, religious and political faith, and some other facts. The work of correctly compiling this information has taken much time and correspondence. It was suggested by a list of the mothers and wives of the presidents published by Dr. Conway in The Constitution many years ago in "Bill Arp's" time. Major Smith and Dr. Conway had many passages in print on these points and in the sifting the names and dates and facts were determined authentically.

WAYCROSS SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR THE TERM

Waycross, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—After one of the most successful years in the school history of Waycross, the public schools of the city came to a close for the summer vacation with the graduation exercises, held tonight at Central school auditorium. The program was as follows: Invocation, Rev. Osgood F. Cook; salutatory, Nat Turner; music, Miss Emma Kate Cannon; essay, Miss Bessie Maynard; chorus, entire class; valedictory, Miss Andromache Bailey; address to class, Superintendent A. G. Miller; delivery of diplomas, Y. L. Lewis, president board of education; delivery of honor certificates to all pupils whose names remained on the school honor roll throughout the school year; delivery of medals; benediction.

The first honor graduate this year is Miss Andromache Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bailey. Miss Bessie Maynard and Nat Turner tied for second honor.

Contrary to the usual custom, the only exercises at the closing of this term was the program rendered tonight by the graduating class.

County Board Sworn In.

Thomasville, Ga., June 5.—(Special.) The members of the county board of education were sworn in here yesterday, after formal organization of the board.

B. W. Stone was elected president. The other members of the board are Remur Singletary, George Hicks, W. J. White and N. D. Gardner. A petition for a change in some of the school districts was heard by the new board, but it was decided to leave the present status of the districts unchanged.

AD MEN OF ATLANTA TO STORM BALTIMORE

L. D. Hicks and W. F. Parkhurst to Address National Ad Men's Convention.

Atlanta will play a leading part in the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, to be held in Baltimore, Md., June 8-13.

More than fifty members of the Atlanta Ad Men's club will leave Saturday at 2:45 o'clock on a special train. They will be joined here by smaller parties from Birmingham, Montgomery and other cities. Atlanta will be advertised in every city through which the Ad Men's special passes, and at Baltimore Atlanta will be prominently in the foreground all the time.

Two Atlanta ad men, L. D. Hicks and W. F. Parkhurst, have been given places on the program, and will address the big gathering.

The Baltimore convention promises to be the largest and most successful ever held by the association. The foreign delegations will be larger and every advertising man in America of any prominence will be present.

The Atlanta delegation has been given an excellent position in the mammoth parade and, through the club who went to Baltimore early this week to make arrangements for the Atlanta delegation, reports that Atlanta's accommodations are to be superior to those enjoyed at any previous convention.

"Atlanta Always Ahead" is to be the slogan at Baltimore, and it will be in evidence every minute of the time.

CORDELE NEGROES GO TO NORTHERN MINES

Cordele, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—About twenty-five negro laborers left Cordele this morning on a special coach chartered for the purpose on their way to points in West Virginia and Pennsylvania to take the places of coal miners who are on strike in certain parts of these states. It is said that recruiters have been at work in sections of this and other states, securing laborers to replenish the diminished forces in mining camps caused by the strike, and that the scarcity of labor in farming sections has provoked considerable objections to such visits. However, all of the negroes who joined the crew going up from Cordele went of their own accord, and city officials used precaution to see that no one who was under contract in any way.

CORDELE UNION DEPOT TO BE ENLARGED SOON

Cordele, Ga., June 5.—It is understood that a conference of railroad officials, members of the railroad commission and Cordele citizens, will be called within a short time for the purpose of perfecting the final consolidation relative to the enlargement and general improvement of the union depot facilities here.

A recent letter from Joseph F. Gray, of the railroad commission, to Mayor Fred Harder, is to the effect that the railroads seem to have practically agreed upon most of the plans for the improvements, which provide for the enlargement of the present depot to more than twice its present size, it is understood.

PERFORMS HIS FIRST "ANTI-GRAFT" MARRIAGE

Chicago, June 5.—The Rev. Almer Pennewell solemnized the first "anti-graft" marriage yesterday since his recent announcement that he believed fees accepted by ministers for officiating at weddings were nothing less than a graft and that in the future he would make no charge for this service. He also asserted that couples must "present clean bills of health from reputable physicians."

Clifton Walker Hunt, of Cleveland, and Miss Dorothy Maize, of Oakpark, a suburb, were the principals at the wedding. The father of the bride, attempted to force a fee upon the clergyman but was unsuccessful.

"I get a salary for my services and couples should not feel that they are receiving charity," said the preacher.

BUNKLEY IN CHARGE HOTEL CUMBERLAND

The Hotel Cumberland, at Cumberland Island, Ga., is now open and receiving guests by every boat. A large convention is now meeting on the island, but will be over in a day or so. The reports from there state that the fishing is good, the best in some years, and that the table and dining room service has been greatly improved over former years. The hotel is being operated and managed this year by the proprietor, R. L. Bunkley. This in itself is a guarantee of good times for every one who goes to this famous Georgia coast resort this summer. For full information write to R. L. Bunkley, Hotel Cumberland, Cumberland Island, Ga.

WALTER H. RICH PRIZES ARE GIVEN TO WINNING SCHOOLS

Interest in having their school yards beautiful received an added impulse yesterday morning when the prizes offered by Walter H. Rich were presented to three of the public schols by Mr Rich and a committee from the Atlanta Art institute, including Mrs. Joseph Moody, Mrs. Haraison Bleckley, Mrs. Edgar Neely and Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott.

Two prizes of $50 each and a special prize of $10 were presented. In appreciation of his efforts to teach them to understand the need of improving their school yards, the pupils presented Mr. Rich with handsome bouquets from the flower gardens in their yards. The committee also received flowers from the children.

The English avenue school received the first prize for the most attractive yard, and the Davis street school got the first prize of $50 for the greatest improvement in its yards. To the Edgewood avenue school was given the special prize for general excellency and the constructive spirit of the principal, Miss Ora Stamps.

Presentation by Mrs. Moody.

With the smiling faces of the children as a background, Mrs. Moody made the formal presentations for Mr Rich. She handed the checks to the principals of the three schools—Miss Julia Riordan, of Davis street school; Miss Lula Kingsbury, of English avenue school, and Miss Stamps, of Edgewood avenue school.

In each instance she congratulated the children and their principals for the earnestness they had shown in the efforts of Mr. Rich to teach them through offering prizes the love for making their yards attractive and a pride in their schools.

In an address to the happy winners, Mr. Rich, whose public spirit gave the impetus to the movement to beautify the yards, praised the work done by the pupils and commended their efforts, thanking them for co-operating in the movement.

Splendid Results of Work.

Both he and the members of the committee regard the work done at English Avenue school as wonderful. This is one of the newest schools in the city, and a year ago its yard was a barren expanse of clay. With Miss Kingsbury's aid and supervision the pupils have hauled loads of earth to cover up the bare clay, and in the holes dug for them by the boys the little girls have planted flowers and grass until the appearance of the entire place has been changed, and it has become, in the estimation of the awarding committee, the most beautiful school yard in Atlanta.

The prize went to the children of Davis Street school for the most work done within the past year. The children have put money and time into their work until they have accomplished wonders with their yard. Flower gardens and vegetable gardens take the place of the patches of bare clay in the yards, and the plants have received the careful attention of the pupils from day to day during the year.

The Edgewood school, which received the special prize, is the one which received the first prize last year, and the constructive spirit shown at the school and the general excellence of the yards prompted the warding of the prize.

MRS. GEORGE KING STILL LINGERS NEAR DEATH

Thomasville Woman Who Took Bichloride Is Dying by Degrees Like Sanders Walker.

Thomasville, Ga., June 5.—(Special.) With little change in her condition except that she grows weaker, Mrs. George King, the woman who attempted suicide here by taking bichloride of mercury, still lingers on. There seems no hope of her recovery, though she states now that she would like to get well and is sorry that she took the poison. Her suffering are not so great as at first, and it was said today that she had been able to retain a little food. The husband of the unfortunate woman was notified of her condition and has been here with her. He is employed at a sawmill near Brinson. It is said that the woman had left him once before, and he had considerable trouble and expense in finding her, the police here being on the outlook for her for some time. It is thought that her mind is unbalanced. She is about 30 years old and has two children.

It is thought by the attending physician that the poison will probably run its course in twenty-four hours longer before being fatal. The woman's idea seems to have been that by taking a large dose of the mercury it would kill her quicker, but it failed to have that effect. She has suffered greatly from vomiting spells and the inability to retain anything upon her stomach.

Men have, at last, found the antidote for heat and are rapidly applying the remedy

The antidote has been discovered in Suits of Silks, Linens, Irish Poplins, Linen Pongees, Shanting Linens, Spanish Linens, Togo Cloths, Palm Beach Cloths and the ever durable English Silk Alpacas.

For years and years these washable fabrics have been worn extensively in our southern coast cities, but only recently have they found favor with the inland population.

Men over the entire country, and especially in the larger cities, have almost simultaneously begun wearing suits of washable fabrics and it is the universal opinion that a lasting craze for these fabrics has taken this country by storm.

They are durable, comfortable, sightly, sanitary and thoroughly practical from every standpoint and, in our opinion, their popularity will never wane.

We have, undoubtedly, the most complete line in Atlanta and with our New Orleans connection, Godchaux's, enables us to offer our customers garments of superior fabrics and construction.

Two-piece Suits of:

Silk $18, $20, $25, $30, $35. Irish and German Linens $11, $12.50. Irish Poplin $10, $12.50. Linen Pongee $12 50 Cotton Pongee $7.50. Spanish Linen $10. $12.50, $15. Togo Cloth $15. Palm Beach Cloth $8.50. Viyella Flannels $15. English Silk Alpacas $25

SOCIETY

To Bridal Party.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Owens gave a beautiful dinner last night at their home, in Druid Hills, in compliment to Miss Louise Ripley and Mr. D. L. MacIntyre, Jr., the party of fourteen including their wedding attendants.

The table centerpiece was a plateau of pink sweet peas, over which hung a Tiffany canopy in pink, shading the lights, and artistic detail of color was pink. The place cards were pink satin roses filled with sweet peas, and the places of the guests of honor, and the two married in little figures of a bride and groom.

Evening Bridge Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Britain will entertain at bridge this evening at their home, on North avenue, in honor of Miss Louise Ripley and Mr. Dan MacIntyre, Jr., whose marriage will be an event of the month. The guests will be Miss Ripley, Miss Julia MacIntyre, Miss Frances Ansley, Miss Laura Ripley, Miss Sara White, Mrs. Homer McAfee, Mr. Dan MacIntyre, Mr. Reuel Griffin, of Thomasville, Mr. Ed Carlton, Mr. Marion Swanson and Mr. Cherry Emerson.

Hartzog-Wright.

The wedding of Miss Irene Hartzog and Dr. Jesse Colquitt Wright was a pretty event of yesterday morning, taking place at 10:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church in the presence of a large company of friends. The church was artistically decorated with palms and ferns.

The bride entered the church with her matron of honor, Mrs. C. N. Dennis. Miss Essie Wright, of Chattsworth, and Miss Essie Westbrook, of Fairburn, were bridesmaids, and the ushers were Colonel Frank L. Neufville, Mr. C. N. Dennis, Mr. George Cunningham, Mr. J. E. Duffree, Mr. Robert W. Stiles was best man, and the ceremony was performed by Dr. Duffree. Miss Irene Bearden played the wedding music. The bride was charming in her going-away gown of blue French silk serge, with hat to match, and she wore a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. The matron of honor was gowned in white voile with touches of blue. Her hat was white and she wore a corsage bouquet of pink sweet-peas and valley lilies. The bridesmaids wore white lingerie gowns with pink sashes and white hats. They carried pink carnations.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Woody, followed the church ceremony. The house was beautifully decorated with quantities of sweet-peas. The centerpiece of the table in the dining room was a basket filled with pink carnations and ferns, and all other details were in pink and white. The bride's mother was gowned in gray silk poplin, and she wore a corsage bouquet of Richmond roses.

Misses Mary and Jesse Thompson assisted in entertaining. Dr. and Mrs. Wright left for an automobile trip through north Georgia and Tennessee. On their return they will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Woodby on Courtland street.

To Senior Classes.

Misses Mary Frances Bowden and Hilda Castleberry gave a lovely reception Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden, in honor of the senior classes of the Girls' high school. The house was decorated with daisies, the colors of the high school. A huge basket of daisies tied with a bow of yellow and gold tulle, resting upon a cluny centerpiece, adorned the luncheon table. The receiving party consisted of Misses Mary Frances Bowden, Hilda Castleberry and Frances Flemister. The guests were met at the door by Misses Erith Boone, Charlotte Thompson and Hortense Loeb. Ices were served by Misses Frances Noyes and Lois Wilkinson. Those assisting in serving were Misses Marcella Sneedan, Sarah Noyes, Catherine Newbanks and Martha Crane. Mrs. J. Q. Bowden, Mrs. D. A. Castleberry and Mrs. W. L. O'Brien assisted in entertaining.

Misses Mary Frances Bowden and Hilda Castleberry entertained their receiving party on Tuesday evening. Progressive games were played. Mrs. W. L. O'Brien furnished the music during the evening. Delightful refreshments were served. Those present were:

Misses Sarah and Frances Noyes, Martha Crane, Edith Boone, Hortense Loeb, Frances Flemister, Catherine Newbanks, Lois Wilkinson, Mary Frances Bowden and Hilda Castleberry, Messrs. Nesbitt, Scott, Dobbs, Bratton, Teague, Meadors, Coll Johnson, William Close and Julian Jackson.

To Miss Francis.

Mrs. Dan C. Lyle was hostess of a party of eight at luncheon yesterday, the occasion one of beautiful hospitality and a compliment to Miss Martha Francis.

Dorothy Perkins roses and hollyhocks were an effective decoration in the reception rooms, the flowers coming from Mrs Lyle's garden, and pink sweetpeas were the basis for a charming luncheon table decoration. In pink the centerpiece was a plateau of the flowers, and the places were marked by corsage bouquets of sweetpeas.

Mrs. Lyle was lovely in pink linen. Miss Francis wore white crepe embroidered in American Beauty color, and her white hat was trimmed with wings.

Reception at Briar Cliff.

Mrs. Asa G. Candler, Jr., will give a reception on Tuesday afternoon, at Briar Cliff in compliment to Miss Louise Ripley.

In the receiving party will be Mrs. Asa G. Candler, Mrs. William Candler, Mrs. T. J. Ripley and Miss Ripley's attendants, Miss Laura Ripley, Mrs. Homer McAfee, Miss Julia MacIntyre, Miss Sina White, Miss Frances Ansley.

Assisting in entertaining will be: Mrs. M. S. Candler, Mrs. Howard Candler, Mrs. Walter Candler, Mrs. William D. Owes and Miss Ludie Holland.

Howard-Yates.

Mrs. Andrew J. Howard announces the marriage of her daughter, Moselle, to Mr. J. St. Julien Yates, Jr., at St. Philip's cathedral, on the afternoon of Thursday, June 5, at 5:45 o'clock. Rev. C. T. A. Pise officiating.

To Misses Davis.

The Baraca and Philathea classes of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church will give an entertainment to their friends and the young people of the community in honor of the Misses Minnie Lee and Sallie Belle Davis, in the lecture room of the church, on the corner of Woodward and Cherokee avenues, Tuesday evening, June 10. After a short program, refreshments will be served. All Baraca, Philathea and young men and young women are cordially invited to attend.

Lawn Fete.

The Peachtree street residence of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Noble will be the scene of a lawn fete Friday afternoon, given by members of St. Mary's guild, of St. Philip's cathedral. The hours are from 4 to 9, and there will be fortune telling, a grab bag, candy sale, etc.

Bridge Series.

Miss Minnie Lee Hay gave a pretty card party of two tables yesterday, this event the first of a series.

The tea table centerpiece was of yellow lillies, and a profusion of daisies decorated the house. The prize was a Dresden powder box.

Miss Hay wore a dainty lingerie gown with pink brocade girdle.

Business Women's Rally.

A rally of the Business Women of Atlanta will be held at the First Baptist church on Sunday, June 8, at 4 p. m. Ten-minute talks will be given by Dr. C. W. Daniel, Mrs. A. J. Orme, Mrs. Samuel H. Askew, Mrs. Hugh M. Willet and Mrs. William Russell Owen. Vocal solos by Charlie Butler (formerly with Wilbur Chapman) and Mrs. Geo. Edmondson. Organist, J. P. O'Donnelly. A reception will be held in the parlors contemplated to be held at frequent intervals, for the discussion of problems relating to business women.

Miss Hull's Recital.

Miss Sally Cobb Hull, member of the organ class of Miss Eda E. Bartholomew, gives her certificate recital this evening, June 6, at the Central Presbyterian church, Harris Street Presbyterian church. She will be assisted by Miss Mamie Clyburn, soprano. The public is invited to attend.

At Battery Park.

Battery Park Hotel, Asheville, N. C., June 5.—(Special.)—The summer capital of North Carolina for the next four weeks will be the busy little city of Asheville, with official headquarters at the Battery Park hotel. This was the statement made by Governor Locke Craig Tuesday when he came to Asheville to be present at the graduation exercises of St. Genevieve's college, where he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mother de Planck, and later held conferences with newspaper men. Governor Craig will come to the Battery Park hotel Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Craig and their sons, and remain until the first of July.

Atlanta people who come to Asheville from July to several weeks generally make their headquarters at the Battery Park, and the following guests from Atlanta are registered or have recently registered at this resort: J. E. Childress, J. O. Vaughan, F. G. Tupper, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thompson and E. L. Nilson.

Varnell-Fitch.

The marriage is announced of Miss Eula Varnell and Mr. James Briggs Fitch, which took place Wednesday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Varnell.

Mrs. J. D. Askew, the bride's sister, was matron of honor; Mr. William Phinney was best man, and little Laura and John Askew were ribbon-bearers. Rev. A. T. Spalding performed the ceremony.

The pretty bride was gowned in white crepe meteor and point lace. Her veil was adjusted with a heart of pearls and diamonds, the gift of the groom, and her flowers were roses and valley lilies.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Fitch went to Virginia and, returning, they will be at the Georgian Terrace.

Bridge Party.

Twenty ladies were the guests of Mrs. J. Epps Brown at bridge yesterday, and the occasion was a happy one, in compliment to Mrs. William Gray, of Richmond, who is visiting Mrs. Fairfax Montague, and Mrs. John Brown, of Richmond, who will make her home in Atlanta.

The decorations were an attractive arrangement of garden flowers, and the prizes were wine glasses, casseroles and a platter.

Bridge Tea.

Mrs. John Gilmore entertained twenty ladies at bridge tea at the Driving club yesterday, inviting them to meet Mrs. C. S. Wood, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Augustus Wilkerson.

Van Epps-Hanson.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Van Epps and Mr. Robert Graham Hanson, Jr., will be an interesting event of Thursday evening, June 12, taking place at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. Richard W. Johnston.

The ceremony, at 9 o'clock, will be witnessed by an intimate company of relatives and friends, and the only attendants will be Miss Agnes Hanson and Mr. Charles Baumgartner, of Bristol, Tenn.

After an informal reception Mr. Hanson and his bride will leave on their wedding trip, and they will make their home in Bristol.

Miss Helen Muse will entertain at luncheon Saturday for Miss Van Epps, and Miss Cleveland Zachner will give a matinee party Monday.

Morning Bridge.

The bridge to be given this morning by Mrs. Thompson de Bruch will be a pretty compliment to Miss Martha Francis.

Invited to meet Miss Francis are: Miss Frances Connally, Mrs. Charles B. Shelton, Misses Caroline Muse, Carolyn King, Lillian Logan, Louise Broyles, Josephine Stone, Elizabeth Morgan, Gladys Levin, Eloise Oliver, Mrs. T. R. Norris.

Pupils' Recital.

Mr. George F. Lindner and Mr. Willford Watters have issued invitations to a recital of their pupils Tuesday evening, June 10, at 8:15 o'clock, at the Atlanta Woman's club, 17 West Baker street.

5,618 SCHOOL CHILDREN IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Lavonia, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The school census for Franklin county has been completed and shows that 76 per cent of the children of the county from 6 to 18 years of age are white. There are 5,618 school children in the county, 4,257 white and 1,361 black. The Lavonia district is the largest in the county, having 346 white and 124 black. Royston is next, with 319 white and 90 black. Two school districts of the county have no black school children in them at all.

NEW ATHENS SOCIAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Athens, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The new social club at the university, the Italia club, met yesterday to elect officers for the ensuing term, the officers being elected to serve till the February meeting, the executive board for the entire college year. Those elected were:

Robert McWhorter, of Athens, president; D. T. McKinnon, of Atlanta, vice president; Artie Small, of Macon, secretary and treasurer; executive committee, Hugh Gannon, of Savannah; Joseph Wiggins, of Savannah; Bob Gunn, of Crawfordville; Carl Durden, of Atlanta; A. O. B. Sparks, of Macon; Charles Brown, of Atlanta; Samuel A. Cann, of Savannah; Reese Pollard, of Washington; Tob Brand, of Augusta, and George Barrett, of Augusta.

A son of the present governor of the state and a grandson of the senior senator from Georgia are members of the executive committee of this youngest club at the university.

SWEEPING CHANGES EXPECTED OF M'ADOO

Washington, June 5.—Secretary McAdoo's "clean out" of republican customs officers at San Francisco is taken to be the fore runner of other sweeping changes in a reorganization plan, to be worked out one port at a time.

It was learned today, though treasury officials tried to keep it secret, that at San Francisco, Mr. McAdoo had demanded not only the resignation of Collector Stratton, but also those of the naval officer, surveyor and appraiser.

HER PUNISHMENT VERY SEVERE

Mrs. Chappell Says That Her Punishment for Five Years Was More than Anyone Could Ever Tell.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell says: "I suffered for about 5 years with womanly trouble, also stomach trouble, and my punishment was more than any one could ever tell.

Several doctors had treated me, and I had tried most every kind of medicine I could think of, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Are you a woman? Do you suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as sleeplessness, nervousness, weakness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. You have everything to gain, if it helps you, and we feel confident it will help you, just as it has more than a million other women, in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui today.

FELDER AND LANFORD COME NEAR TO BLOWS

Personal Encounter in Solicitor's Office Is Narrowly Averted by Bystanders.

What threatened to be a serious personal encounter between Colonel Thomas R. Felder and Detective Chief Newport Lanford was narrowly averted Thursday morning in Solicitor Hugh Dorsey's office by the interference of bystanders.

The two men, who, for several weeks, have been hurling ugly charges at each other, were facing each other at the time after the passage of a few words, when they were seized and hustled away from each other.

Out of the serious nature of the near fight grew a laughable incident through the failure of the flashlight apparatus of a newspaper photographer. When the man summoned at the grand jury probe began to arrive the air was pregnant with impending trouble, and the photographer held his camera in hand, ready for instant action. By his side walked an assistant with a full load of powder in the pan of the flashlight instrument.

Colonel Felder had barely replied to Chief Lanford's request that he rise and face him and the men were preparing to rush to each other, when before anyone could seize them, the photographer got into action with his camera, and, yelled for his assistant to touch off the flash. The trigger was pulled but the cap refused to explode, and one of the best "action pictures" ever taken went to naught.

Warnings Received By Felder.

The affair that directly precipitated the near fight grew out of the arrival of Chief Lanford and his "good morning, gentlemen," addressed to a crowd of men in the solicitor's office. Colonel Felder had been warned by anonymous communications and by telephone call that he would be assaulted by the detective chief during the session, and apparently expected it.

"You didn't speak to me, did you?" he replied to Lanford as the latter made his remark.

"No, but if you come over here, I will speak to you," said the chief.

"You come to me. I'm sitting down," calmly replied the attorney.

"Want You Standing Up."

"I want you standing up," replied Chief Lanford as he walked over and stood in front of Felder's chair.

As the man rose the detective clenched his fists and drew back as though to strike him. Colonel Felder reached toward his hip pocket, as though he carried a weapon there.

At this juncture Deputy Flennie Miner grabbed with the detective chief while reporters and photographer the solicitor's office caught Colonel Felder.

Chief Lanford demanded that Colonel Felder be placed under arrest for carrying concealed weapons, but this was not done, as no search was made of him to determine if he was really armed, as had been claimed.

The men then parted and Deputy Miner was appointed to see that they kept order while in attendance on the grand jury.

CAVEAT IS FILED TO DODD DEMURRER

A demurrer to the caveat objecting to the will of the late Mrs. Barbara H. Dodd, which gives practically everything to her relatives and gives Mercer university $100,000, was filed yesterday by Attorney J. D. Ross before Ordinary John R. Wilkinson.

In the caveat the objecting heirs claim that Mrs. Dodd was laboring under a delusion when she made the will and in his demurrer Attorney Ross declares that the caveat fails to show this or to give any strength to the caveat.

The case will come up for a hearing on next Tuesday, and it is expected that a bitter fight will result. Charles E. Currier, the executor of the will, is represented by Attorneys Rosser & Brandon and King, Spalding & Underwood.

J. Jarrell Drops Dead.

Athens, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Jesse Jarrell, an old citizen of this county, dropped dead this morning about 1 o'clock at his country place, near the old university farm, west of the city two miles. He leaves a family and several brothers and sisters. He was prominent in country life.

Negro Suttlers of Confederate Army Make a Pathetic Petition for Aid

Addressing it to "The Confederate States of America," twenty-eight old ante-bellum negroes who served as suttlers and bodyguards for their masters in the civil war, petitioned the state commissioners of pensions yesterday to do something for them.

Part of this unique petition reads: "We, the poor old helpless now ex-slaves who were carried by our masters as bodyguards to the great confederate armies in the war between the states to protect our masters from as much harm as lay within our power, while he fought for his rights a he saw them, we performed our duty that was placed upon us as true men and were as loyal to our masters and their commanders as any that wore the gray.

"We followed him to his last resting place after he had answered the last roll call at home, to his family and friends or to the family graveyard.

"We were so many times nearer to his enemies than were to him, but we deserted him not, and at the time he and his enemies were in deadly combat striving for supremacy we were aware his enemies were our friends to our freedom, and so often we could have escaped and went over to them, but would not, for we felt our masters placed in us a confidence or they would not have carried us along with them as bodyguards, so we could not betray their confidence.

Therefore we stayed with them till that great war was over and we were discharged and not given one cent to make our way through the world as best we could, so we have had a hard time of it.

"Appeal to Confederate States."

"Now we are old and unable to do our usual work or any kind of manual labor, so we are now suffering for food and clothing and medical attention. So our last resort is to appeal to the Confederate States of America and to the state of Georgia for a little pension or a donation or a little help to we old broken-down, worn-out ex-slaves. We, while in your armies, built your breastworks, cooked, washed and did everything your regular soldiers did except carry a gun, and would have done that if we had been commanded to do so.

"So will he good state of Georgia, where we were born and reared, come to our rescue."

Plan of Relief Suggested.

This is one of the most unique petitions ever presented to an official in the Georgia state capitol building, bringing as it does to the older heads memories of other days when the bodyguard was as true as the dog to its master.

Under the present laws of Georgia there is no adequate provision made for these once retainers, but in all probability a bill will be passed at the coming session of the legislature providing for them in some manner.

It has been suggested that they be admitted into the county farms and made pensioners for life. There would not be more than one or two to the county, and this would involve practically little hardship upon any one county.

VICTIM OF PELLAGRA, SHE LEAPS INTO WELL

Macon Woman, When Told Her Case Is Hopeless, Ends Life by Drowning.

Macon, June 5.—(Special.)—Because she was a victim of the dreaded pellagra and had no chance to recover, Miss Kittie Tyner, who lived near Cross Keys, with her brother, Ben Tyner, ended her life at 3 o'clock this morning by jumping into a well of a next door neighbor.

This morning when relatives went to Miss Tyner's room to awaken her they found her missing. On a table was a note, which bore the words: "I have decided to end my suffering by seeking death. You will find my body in the well next door."

When the well was explored the body was found in an upright position with the head about a foot above the surface of the water, the hands clasped under the chin.

The coroner held an inquest this morning and returned a verdict that death was due to suicide.

Ben Tyner, the brother of the young woman, is an east Macon merchant. J. Sid Simmons, a brother-in-law, is also a well-known resident of east Macon, and is a brother of Mrs. Kate King, now held in the Jones county jail on charges with the murder of her husband, the late James King.

Two other brothers, and two sisters also survive. They are J. M. Tyner, of Waxsiddo; W. S. Tyner, M. a. H. J. Hadaway and Mrs. Sid Simmons, both of Macon.

The body of the dead woman will be shipped to Cork, Ga., tomorrow for funeral and interment.

STEAMER IS DELAYED BY MORGAN'S FAREWELL

New York, June 5.—The sailing of the liner France for Havre was delayed 45 minutes today to allow J. P. Morgan, jr., to bid farewell to his sister, Miss Anne Morgan, who will spend the summer in her villa near Paris. Mr. Morgan jumped from an automobile and ran across the gangplank just as it was about to be raised. Miss Morgan was waiting for him at the railing.

Another passenger on the steamer was Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Institute. Dr. Carrel will spend the summer in Paris and Berlin where he will make experiments in transplanting organs of the human body.

UNDERPASSES MAY SOON BE CLOSED

Central Railroad Agrees to Use of Passageways to the Tracks Under the Forsyth Street Viaduct.

The agreement of Vice President Winburn, of the Central of Georgia railroad, to allow use of his road's passageway to the tracks under the Forsyth street bridge, and the statement of Judge George Hillyer, representing the railroad commission, that the city's guarantee to provide for an outlet and inlet to the yards would very probably be received favorably by the railroad commission, makes it practically certain that the Forsyth street viaduct underpasses which have long been a hindrance to traffic, will be closed within sixty or ninety days.

Council has already agreed to close the underpasses at either end of the bridge and to appropriate $2,000 as their share of the expense, provided that the special committee could make arrangements whereby they would be a means of ingress and egress to the railroad tracks.

Up to the N., C. & St. L.

At the meeting held yesterday morning in the city hall, presided over by Councilman J. T. Kimbrough, the chairman, the action of the Central road was made known through Chief Engineer Lawrence. The committee, after discussing the matter, adjourned until it could learn the attitude of President Thomas, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St Louis railroad, and if he will make the same agreement in regard to the Wall street approaches as Vice President Winburn. If he does, it is believed that the matter can be settled and the underpass closed.

Vice President Winburn's agreement was to allow the city to use as a public avenue the approaches to the tracks under the Forsyth street bridge that are now reached from West Alabama street. He granted an indefinite use of this passageway, subject to the right of closing it after giving twelve months' notice to the city.

In the event that the Central should give notice of the closing of the opening from Alabama street, the city engineer has prepared plans for a sloping bridge from the north side of the Forsyth street bridge, 380 feet to the railroad yards, which would give an approach at only a 3½ per cent grade, whereas the underpasses which now give approach have a grade of over 13 per cent.

Commission to Agree.

Judge Hillyer explained that he believed the railroad comission would agree to the closing of the underpasses provided they could be guaranteed of approaches from both sides. The matter for the commission to consider will be the guarantee proposed by the city that in case the two railroads should give notice of the closing of the Wall street and the West Alabama street approaches that the city would build the sloping bridge or would reestablish the underpass.

That the closing of the underpasses now at each end of the bridge would be of wonderful value to Forsyth street is the belief of all who use that street. The present arrangement makes a narrow approach to the bridge on either side of the underpass. This approach is so narrow that there is only room for one vehicle or a street car, and that the city fire department has to go around some other bridge practically all of the time.

Accidents Caused.

The halting of one car or vehicle on one of these approches blocks that end of the bridge for all traffic going that way, and this has occurred a number of times, and there have already been one or more fatal accidents due to the narrowness of the way.

In an estimate made by Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of construction, it is shown that the closing of the underpasses could be accomplished at a cost of only $5,200, and for this council has already appropriated $2,000, while the street car company will pay a share, and the remainder would be easily raised.

GIRLS USE HATPINS ON UNION PICKETS

Hazelton, Pa., June 5.—Girls employed at the shirt factory of J. Gerhardt & Co., continued today the use of hatpins when approached by pickets of the United Mine Workers and other unions to organize them to remain away from the factory. In a clash at West Hazleton, a number of pickets were scratched with hatpins in a fight to take these weapons away from the girls.

One girl worker was arrested on a charge of threatening to use a pin on a policeman.

Chocolate Fudge

¼ cupful Red Velva Syrup, 2 squares bitter chocolate, ¼ cupful cream or milk, 2 cupfuls granulated sugar, 1 cupful chopped nut meats, 1 teaspoonful ginger extract, 2 heaping tablespoonfuls of butter.

Melt chocolate in saucepan, add Velva, butter, sugar and milk or cream. Stir over fire till they boil for four minutes. Test in cold water and remove from the fire when it forms a soft ball or registers 240°F. on the thermometer. Add extract and nuts and beat until smooth. Pour into buttered pan and cut in squares when cold.

Here, Madam, is the Better Syrup

Your family will enjoy Velva more that any other syrup, on griddle cakes, waffles, biscuits and muffins. You can make better cakes and candies, better fudge, better cookies with Velva, the better syrup in the red can. You'll get the very top notch of flavor into your goodies because is made to satisfy you and to keep you satisfied. It is doing that in countless thousands of homes and we want your home to be one more. We want your syrup trade and we know that one can of Velva will bring you back again and again. Ten cents and up, according to size—at your grocer's. Velva in the green cans, too, if you prefer it. Seventh Straight.

THE LOOKOUTS dropped their seventh straight game of the season to the Crackers Thursday afternoon. The Lookouts and the Barons are the teams that the Crackers have been beating with regularity. Six out of eight have been registered from the Barons.

Wallie the Goods.

WALLOP Smith may star in a new role for the Crackers. If Joe Dunn should get hurt Wallop would take up his stand behind the platter, which is said to be its natural position. We don't know, not having seen him work, but we'd place a little wager that he would look as good behind the old bat as he does on the hot corner, and, believe us, he is considerable third baseman—yes, considerable.

Looking 'Em Over.

FOUR SCOUTS are in Atlanta, having a look at the promising material on the Crackers and Lookouts. Wallie Smith, Tommy Long and Harry Coveleskie are the men who are probably attracting the most attention just now.

Another Alibi.

HIRSIG has another alibi. His contention regarding the schedule squabble between the Crackers and the Vols is that Manager Smith exceeded his authority when he endeavored to switch Wednesday's game to Monday, claiming that there was no such arrangement in the first place, and in the second, it did not have the approval of the Atlanta club president, as required under the rules of the Southern league. President Calloway has placed Hirsig in the Annnias club with this statement: "I most emphatically did approve of the switch. I have Hirsig's letter approving same and I ordered Manager Smith to bring the team back home on Tuesday night. Mr. Allin, please write.

In Bad Way.

WITH CHAPMAN hors du combat for several days, and Joe Dunn catching with a busted hand, the Crackers are in a bad way for catchers for the next few days. Chapman is out with a badly spiked leg, and Joe Dunn has three fingers on his right hand badly smashed, making catching and batting painful; but the game Joseph is not wincing and is sticking by his guns until the mainspring Chapman is ready for the fray again.

Looked Impossible.

THE REPORT that the Crackers were going to get Pitcher Robertson from the Savannah club looked impossible on the face of it. It did not seem likely that Perry Lipe would let the best pitcher on his ball club slip away from him, as the season in the South is divided into two sections. Although he apparently has the first half sewed up, the Indianapolis leader does not want to set his team back by disposing of his best pitcher before the second series starts.

Looks Promising.

IF GONZELMAN shows as well in a game he has shown in practice, the former Pirate is going to be a big help to the pennant-chasing Crackers. This fellow has an overhand curve, drop that is a peach and it is this kind of a delivery that wins in the league. His control also seems to be good, and he has the size. Everything seems promising for this lad to make good.

Trophies on Exhibition.

THE HANDSOME trophies awarded by Randolph-Hearst for the base ball effort, leading base stealer and the leading pitcher of the Southern league are now on exhibition in the window in the show windows of Chamberford Co. every day during the stay of the Chicago Cubs in Atlanta. W. R. Senter, secretary of the Chattanooga team, has the trophies in possession. The Constitution printed a photo of the three medals some few days ago that would gold and are worth over $300 each.

Taking Long Trip.

STEWART MAIDEN, golf professional of the Atlanta Athletic club, will leave Sunday for Scotland to visit his old home and to play some of the famous golf courses of the old country. Mr. Maiden will be gone for a couple months and during his absence Willie Mann will be the professional at Bobby Jones' Lake club. Maiden will be accompanied by C. W. Adair, Percy Adair and some of the other local athletes.

Bantam Title.

JOHNNY COULON, the bantam champion has at last been cornered to defend his title. Johnny Kilbane, the Baltimore marvel, has been matched to meet the champion on the coast in a 10-round affair on July 4. This should be a bear-cat of a battle.

Pulls for Good.

ATHLETICS have lost one of its stars. John Paul Jones, the mile champion, has announced his retirement for good, after setting a new record at the games in Cambridge. "I will not never don a spiked shoe again," he says.

As Predicted.

JUDGE KAVANAUGH, president of the Southern league, will order the Crackers and the Vols to play a game that they are squabbling about. This prediction was made in Wells Wednesday morning. (We told you so.)

GERMAN TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS FRENCHMEN

Wiesbaden, Germany, June 5.—The German team beat the French team in the elimination contest for the Dwight F. Davis international tennis trophy, which has been in progress here for three days.

The Germans won two of the first three singles matches played, also the doubles match.

The first singles match between Kreuser (German) and Gobert (French) was won by Kreuser by three sets to one, the score being 1-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0.

The second singles match between Rahe and Gobert was won by the German, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

The doubles match was won by the Germans, Kleinschroth and Rahe, who were opposed to the Frenchmen, Decugis and Germot. The scores were 7-5, 6-4, 4-6, 9-7.

Welchonce and Musser Beat Lookouts Thursday's Game; Former's Homer Clears Bases

By Dick Jemison.

Harry Welchonce's hitting and fielding and the great pitching of Paul Musser was entirely too much for the Lookouts Thursday afternoon in the first game of the series, the Crackers winning 4 to 1.

It was the seventh straight victory of the season for the Crackers over the Lookouts. The Lookouts have lost four games to the Crackers in Atlanta and three in Chattanooga.

For quite a while it looked like the Lookouts were going to score their first victory over the Crackers. Forest More was pitching wonderful ball. He was practically unhittable and he did not show any signs of weakening.

He did, however, in the stand-up session, and the "lucky seventh," which has been unlucky for the Crackers of late, turned like the worm and the locals mopped.

Welchonce Busy.

To Harry Welchonce goes the largest share of the credit for the victory. The speedy centerfielder of the locals had a great day in every department.

It was his great throw to the plate in the sixth inning that cut down King attempting to score from third on a sacrifice fly. His throw was absolutely perfect, coming to Joe Dunn on the first bounce.

Not content with this, Harry picked out one of More's fast ones in the seventh with two men on the cushions and whaled it to the score board for a clean home run. The ball climbed up on the bank along side of the board. It was one of the cleanest wallops that has ever been hit on the local lot.

But Harry was not through. With two men on the paths in the ninth with two men gone, Williams hit what appeared to be a Texas leaguer right over short.

With the crack of the bat Harry set sail. "I've got it," he shouted, and crowding on full steam he plunged ahead, scooping the ball off his shoetops on the dead run, as sensational a catch as has ever been made on the local grounds this season.

Musser Hurls Fine.

Although he was a trifle wild, Musser mussed the Lookouts up considerable. He had something on them all the time and but for a little weirdness in the initial chapter would have gotten away with a whitewash affair.

Three measley little bingles were all they were able to garner off his delivery. Musser had everything his own way and he lacked that requisite only because his out curve was working so sharp that he could not keep it in check.

The lone Lookout run came in the opener. King worked Musser for free transportation and went to second when Paul threw wild in trying to catch him off of first. He advanced to third on Flick's infield out, and scored when Coyle hit a sacrifice fly to right.

The Lookouts did not get a hit off of Musser again until the sixth inning, when Williams lined out a single. At the time they were busy nothing.

Crackers' Big Round.

The Crackers count in the fourth innings in the standup session, four big, luscious tallies being registered.

Pleland opened the round by smacking one down the right field lane for two cushions. Agler sacrificed him to third in neat fashion. Dunn walked and Musser was pinked in the slats during the cushions.

Tommy Long tied up the pastime when he poled a long one to the center for a sizzling Pleland home.

Welchonce then put the game on ice by picking one to the score board for the circuit.

Ladies' Day Today.

Manager Smith will use either Gilbert Price or Bill Chappelle, with the chances favoring the latter, as Chappelletee he can win from his former teammates.

Buds Sommers, the former Nashville southpaw, is probably Price's assignment for Elberfeld's men, though it is possible that Manager Elberfeld will decide to send Henry Dygert to the mound.

Montgomery, Ala., June 5.—In a well-played and hard-fought battle, the last game of the series between New Orleans and Montgomery resulted in an eleven-inning 4 to 4 game.

Weaver started strong, but was relieved by McIntyre in the sixth. The bases were full and two out. McIntyre retired the side without a run, when the next batter was out on a long fly to left. Bagby did not allow a hit after the fifth inning. Breen's catch of a line drive from Bagby's bat, doubling Knaupp at first, was the feature. Score:

CHRIS VON DE AHE HAS PASSED AWAY

St. Louis, June 5.—Chris Von Der Ahe, owner of the old St. Louis champion ball team of 1885-88, and years ago one of the best known baseball magnates in the country, died at his home in this city early this morning.

Von der Ahe has been seriously ill for two months. Death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver and dropsy. He was 61 years old, was born in Germany, and came to this country in 1870.

The eccentric German sprang into fame in 1883, when he bought a majority of the stock in the St. Louis Baseball association for $1,800. In the baseball years he made $500,000 off the investment. When the St. Louis club joined the National League organization, Von der Ahe's Browns became the famous four-time pennant winners of 1885-86-87 and 88. His luck lasted for exactly four years, the last winning club was that of 1887, which finished second in the American association. In 1892, he retired the twelve-club National league team, which had successively finished last or next to last, until 1899, when Spectsman's park was sold to satisfy the demands of his creditors. Another few years he had been poor for the one-time wealthy man. The saloon he maintained hardly brought in enough to keep him. Old-time baseball friends contributed regularly to his living.

NELSON WHITNEY IN GREAT FORM

Former Champion Meets Reuben Bush in Semi-Finals Today—All Atlantans Have Been Eliminated.

Montgomery, Ala., June 5.—Play in the tournament of the Southern Golf association was fierce all day long, the features being the elimination of Ellis Knowles of Pensacola, and Louis Jacoby, of Dallas, Texas, from the championship division, by Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans. Both of these matches were followed by immense galleries, in which the sentiment, for a time, was about evenly divided. Tomorrow morning the greatest interest, according to enthusiastic gossip around the clubhouse tonight, will be centered in the match between Nelson and Reuben Bush, both of New Orleans. These two men have battled against each other before in the championship division of the southern association, and each time Whitney has been returned the winner. Bush has been playing remarkably goo dgolf this year, however, and his adherents are notably increased.

The playing of Jacoby was a distinct disappointment to all watchers today, but his gameness in a losing fight won him many friends. In an easy knot he lost, and as Whitney followed it with a clean shot, Jacoby snatched his hand, conceding the match with congratulations. The other Dallas player, E. H. Munger, who threatened to be a serious contender, was easily disposed of by Reuben Bush, of New Orleans. Bush easily disposed of Jack Edrington, former title holder, in the afternoon play.

Reuben Bush, New Orleans, and Whitney, New Orleans; Aldredge, Dallas, and Tutwiler, Birmingham. The pairs for the consolation championship are:

C. H. Munger, Dallas, and Selden, Macon; Ulmer, Dallas, and I. W. Read, Augusta.

ALABAMA-GEORGIA.

Newnan 8, Talladega 3.

Newnan, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Newnan played rings around Talladega today, winning with ease. In a comedy of hits and errors the visitors blew up in the sixth and when the smoke had cleared away Newnan had put seven runs across the pan. The feature of the game was the hitting of Griffin, of Newnan.

Cordele Gets Charter.

Cordele, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The Cordele Baseball association has been permanently organized under the charter granted at the term of the superior court of Crisp county just closed. The stockholders in the association met yesterday and elected F. L. Bartholomew president and C. C. Cleveland secretary and treasurer, each to hold office for a year. Definite plans are being formulated here with a view of maintaining a team in the Empire State league.

Harry Chapman Is Badly Spiked; Out for Two Weeks

Chapman had to go to the surgeon to have damages repaired, and it was necessary that three stitches be taken before the damage was repaired. The physician has ordered complete rest as the best cure, and Manager Smith is insisting that the physician's orders be carried out.

Chapman will hardly be able to catch until the Crackers go on their road trip next week, and it may not be possible for him to get into harness then.

With Joe Dunn in a crippled condition, if he was to get hurt in any of the present games, the Crackers would be right up against it for a receiver, be right up against it for a receiver, but for one thing.

Wallop Smith, the Crackers' third base man(is a catcher. This is his regular position and Bill says he's a bear cat back of that plate.

FULTZ MAKES GOOD POINT ON SALARY

New York, June 5.—Some of the reasons why baseball players in the big leagues want to change the system under which they are farmed out to minor league clubs at salaries less than those called for in their original contracts, are contained in a letter written by David L. Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' fraternity, to August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, made public today.

"There can be no intelligent denial," reads Mr. Fultz's letter, "of the soundness of the principle that so long as the player is held under a signed contract he must receive the salary the contract calls for. The common practice of forcing men to go to other teams and allowing these teams arbitrarily to cut their salaries can have neither legal nor moral justification.

"You say after the player is transferred it is a matter of negotiation between him and his new owner. How can it be a question of negotiation when the player is compelled to sign with one particular team or quit his profession? There can be no negotiation when one party is absolutely at the mercy of the other; it then becomes a question of duress.

"When the situation is reversed and the major league recruit plays far better ball than he is expected to, he can't 'welch' on his agreement and refuse to play unless he gets more money. Why, then, should the owner have the right to withdraw from his contract when he finds his bargain is not quite as good as he expected?"

MOTORDROME TO OPEN TONIGHT

Splendid Program to Be Presented to Speed Fans of Atlanta—Popular Prices on Hand.

Facts for Fans.

Place—Atlanta Motordrome, old show grounds.

Cars leave from Five Points.

Time—Tonight, first race, 8:30 o'clock. Track open 7.

Events—Atlanta Sweepstakes, Motordrome purse, special match race. Nine races in all.

Track—Four lap, board, banked 15, 30, 58 and 90 degrees.

Record for a quarter of a mile track, 38 2-5 seconds.

This is the day they get off in a cloud of smoke, a blaze of electric lights and an acre of thrills out at the new Atlanta Motordrome, the newest, fastest and best quarter mile motordrome in the world.

Starting at 8:30 tonight at the old show grounds, the first board track motorcycle races ever held in Atlanta or the southwest will be put on. To ride in these events Manager Noon Hudson has skimmed off the cream of the board track riders of the continent.

When the meet was proposed he and Jack Prince went over a list of the professional riders and picked out the best. Then they signed them to good contracts and they are all in Atlanta with machines tuned up and ready to risk their necks for coin and fame.

Sure to Please.

That board track racing is going to be a tremendous hit in Atlanta—to "kill 'em dead," as the dirt track vernacular has it—no man can doubt who knows the possibilities of the sport for thrilling the spectators. Just to see a long rider whirling around the steep banks of the track at a speed that makes a racing locomotive look like a snail is a sight in itself.

Add to this two or three others, equally fast, fighting viciously for the leadership built into the picture the blazing electric lights, the flames shooting from the flying machines, imagine the crowds on their feet, cheering madly, and you have some faint conception of what will be offered.

The Motordrome is set for immense popularity, unless all signs fail, which they seldom do in hot weather.

There is no competition to speak of here, either, and on the hot nights of the summer for all of Atlanta's tens of thousand pleasure seekers. The Motordrome will fill a long void. Within a five-minute ride of Five Points, it is easily accessible. Having no roof, it will be cool and comfortable on all pleasant nights.

Rain Checks.

In case of rain those who buy tickets will be protected by a system of rain checks similar to those issued by the ball club. The place will be brilliantly lighted, well policed and run on as high a plane as the best theater in the country. It is an amusement designed for the best people. But the prices—25 and 50 cents, put the sport within reach of all.

For the opening night, Manager Noon Hudson has prepared a program that compares favorably with anything ever offered at Brighton Beach, Chicago or Los Angeles. Nine races, split up into the three events, will be put on. These events are the Atlanta Sweepstakes, the Motordrome purse and a special match race.

The first heat of the Sweepstakes is set for 8:30 o'clock, and from the start with the machines circling the track three or four times in each race to get lined up, will take but a few minutes. The races themselves will be run off at a rate of perhaps forty to forty-two seconds to the mile, so the longest of them will not be long. The intermissions will be short, and the whole affair will be run off with such snap that it will not keep the spectators to a late hour.

Program.

The condensed program for tonight's races follows:

Atlanta Sweepstakes—First heat, one mile; second heat, one mile; third heat, one mile; final heat, sweepstakes, five miles.

Motordrome Purse—First heat, two miles; second heat, two miles; third heat, two miles; final heat, purse, three miles.

BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL'S LARGEST CLASS HOLDS GRADUATING EXERCISES TONIGHT

1913 Graduating Class of the Atlanta Boys' High School.

Having completed a most successful year of work and study, the senior class of the Boys' High school will hold graduation exercises at the grand opera house Friday night, at 8:30 o'clock.

The class is the largest ever graduated from this school, and its record in scholarship is of the highest. A large part of the success of these boys is due to the helpful work of their class teacher, Mr. R. C. Little.

Following the lead of former classes a majority of the boys intend to go to college. High school alumnae have made enviable records wherever they have attended, and few southern colleges are without representatives from this school.

Following is the program of the graduation exercises:

Music—H. M. S. C. H. S. orchestra.

Prayer—Bishop Warren A. Candler.

Part 1—Commercial Department: "The Gospel of Service," Sam Eplan; valedictory, Joseph H. Stanfiel.

Music.

Part 2—Commercial Department: "Universal Peace," Roy W. Manning; "Woman's Suffrage," Earnest H. Lowenthal; valedictory, Bascom H. Torrance.

Music.

Delivery of medals and scholarships by Hon. Harold Hirsch.

The following medals are to be awarded:

The Holzman medal, given by Mr. A. Holzman, jeweler, is to be awarded to the member of the senior class making the best record in scholarship.

The Atlanta chapter of the D. A. R. Daughters of 1812 offers a medal for improvement in physical culture.

The following scholarships: The Harold Hirsch $150 cash scholarship to the University of Georgia.

Scholarships to Emory College, Mercer university, University of North Carolina, Washington and Lee, University of the South, Tulane and Davidson.

Members of the graduating class are as follows:

Kavanaugh Will Throw Out Nashville - Atlanta Game; Only Solution to the Row

Little Rock, Ark., June 5.—"With what information I have before me, I should say that neither of the games of the Nashville-Atlanta series claimed as forfeited will be allowed to stand," said W. M. Kavanaugh, president of the Southern league, today.

Mr. Kavanaugh, who returned to Little Rock today from a fishing trip, stated tonight that he has not had opportunity to go into the controversy, but from what he had learned from newspaper dispatches, was of the opinion that the games would be ordered played over.

Atlanta and Nashville were scheduled to play at Nashville June 2, 3 and 4. One of these games was advanced to Sunday. Monday announcement was made by the Nashville club that the remaining games of the series would be played Tuesday and Wednesday, but the Atlanta team appeared at the Nashville grounds Monday afternoon in uniform and claimed a forfeit. After Tuesday's game, Manager Smith and his team left Nashville to play an especially arranged game with Montgomery in Atlanta. In Nashville the home team went through the usual formalities yesterday and claimed a victory by forfeit.

"This whole trouble has been caused by the managers failing to notify me when they agreed to a change in schedule," said Mr. Kavanaugh. "Neither Manager Schwartz, of Nashville, nor Manager Smith, of Atlanta, did this. Now they give conflicting statements as to their agreement. It seems the playing of the games over is the only solution."

Mayor Gaynor to Open International Tennis Matches at New York

New York, June 5.—Mayor Gaynor will lend the dignity of the municipality to the Davis cup international lawn tennis matches tomorrow when he tosses the balls into the turf enclosure of the West Side club, where the Americans and Australians will meet in the preliminary matches of the twelfth series for the trophy. M. E. McLoughlin, the national champion, and Horace Rice, of Sydney, N. S. W., will be the first competitors in the singles, starting at 2 o'clock. At the end of their match, R. N. Williams, of Harvard, will play S. N. Douet, captain of the team from the Antipodes. The courts are in prime condition for the matches.

Critical observers who saw today's practice play expressed the opinion that the Australians comprise the most formidable team that has ever played in this country.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE

Waycross 2, Valdosta 1.

Waycross, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—In a brilliant twelve-inning game Waycross defeated Valdosta today, 2 to 1. Alpermann started the rally in the twelfth by a single to right, and on Fenton's two-bagger he scored. Gentry pitched a fine game for Valdosta but Waycross was lucky in getting bunched hits. Valdosta's run was made on two two-baggers in the second, and although they were dangerous several times, crappy doubles killed their chances of scoring. Wild Bill Clark, by today's victory, made his fourth straight since he joined Waycross. Waycross made three doubles and Valdosta one.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.

Waycross ..... 000 001 000 01—2	6	1

Batteries—Gentry and Vanlandingham; Clark and Schuman. Time 2.05. Umpire, Carter.

Brunswick 8, Americus 1.

Brunswick, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Hartner, who pitched for Brunswick, was the particular star of today's game with Americus, which the locals won, 8 to 1. He struck out twelve men, allowed only five hits, rapping out a home run himself with the bases full, and doubled. Kite of the locals, and Chancey of Americus also hit for home runs, the one of Chancey coming in the ninth inning, with two down.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Americus ..... 000 000 001—1	5	4
Brunswick ..... 040 120 10x—8	12	2

Batteries—Smith and Manchester; Burns, Harter and Kite. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Cordele 5, Thomasville 3.

Thomasville, Ga., June 5.—(Special.) In a very exciting contest, Cordele downed Thomasville this afternoon, 5 to 3. It was a pitchers' battle between Stiles and Gillespie until the seventh, when Nadler got a home run and Murch a two-bagger. Hall relieved him and only two safeties were secured off Him in six innings. Fast fielding at all stages of the game by both teams made the contest a splendid one. A one-handed stop of a long drive to right field by Barnett and the infield work of both teams featured.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Cordele ..... 100 000 200 002—5	8	2
Thomasville ..... 100 000 200 000—3	7	4

QUERIES ANSWERED.

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Last Saturday, A bet that Atlanta would win both games. The first game was called on account of rain and awarded to Montgomery, as they were ahead. Has A lost or is the bet off?

W. C.

In all cases where a bet is made on a doubleheader, when the double-header is not played, regardless of the outcome of the first game, the bet is declared off.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: The batsman knocks a grounder to left field and makes first. The left fielder throws the ball to first. The first baseman lets it pass. If the runner does not take second is it the duty of the umpire to send him to it?

W. C.

No, it is not. If the runner is base-headed enough to hold on to the base, when he has a chance to go to another, he does so on his own responsibility.

BASEBALL MEDALS ARE ON EXHIBITION

Handsome Gold Trophies on Display in Cloud-Stanford Co.'s Show Windows.

The handsome gold medals offered by Randolph Rose, of Chattanooga, to the Southern league player with the highest batting average at the end of the season, the one with the most stolen bases, and the pitcher with the highest average, are on exhibition here.

They will be on display in the show windows of Cloud-Stanford company today, W. R. Senter, secretary of the Chattanooga baseball team, making arrangement for their display here for the remainder of the stay of the Chattanooga team in Atlanta.

Macon, Ga., June 5.—Pool, Savannah's star hurler, got his good and hard today when Macon located him for ten hits and eight runs in the six innings played. Savannah scored three runs. Moses was wild in the start of the contest but proved better as the game grew older. The game was called at the end of Savannah's half of the seventh inning on account of rain. Score:

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.

Macon ..... 210 014 x—8	10	2

Batteries—Pool and Getbel; Moses and Reynolds. Time, 1:35. Umpire, Pender.

Foxes 5, Babies 3.

Albany, Ga., June 5.—Columbus won the opening game of the series here today by the score of 5 to 3. The game only went seven innings on account of late arrival of the Columbus players, who were en route to Albany from Charleston. The Columbus club missed connection in Thomasville and came into the city at 2:30 in automobiles.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.

Travers Made Record.

Short Hills, N. J., June 5.—Following close upon his winning of the Metropolitan golf championship, Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, N. J., the national champion, established a record of 73 for the remodeled links of the Baltusrol club today in the 18-hole qualifying round of the New Jersey state championship tournament. The next best score was a 78.

LaGrange 5, Anniston 3.

LaGrange, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—LaGrange won again today taking the first game of the series with Anniston and making four out of five of the last games having won by the LaGrange team. Beasley pitched for LaGrange, and for seven innings only twenty-one men faced him. The final score was three to five, in favor of LaGrange.

FOUR BIG LEAGUE SCOUTS ARE HERE

Four big league scouts are in Atlanta, and will be in Atlanta for the next two days, looking over the members of the Atlanta and Chattanooga teams.

Joe Sugden, of the Detroit Tigers; Bill Armour, of the Milwaukee American association team; Mike Kahoe, of the Washington Americans, and Howard Earle, of Pittsburg, are the four gum shoe artists on the job.

They were interested in yesterday's pastime. It is understood that they are looking over Tommy Long, Wallie Smith, Harry Covleskie, Paul Musser, Elliott Dent and Rudy Sommers.

Indian Thorpe's Record Is Broken by Thompson

Princeton, N. J., June 5.—F. C. Thompson, a student in the Princeton Theological seminary, made a new world's record in the all-around championship held here today, when he scored a total of 7,499 in the ten events. The previous records were 7,385, made by Martin Sheridan, of New York, and 7,476, made by Jim Thorpe, subsequently disqualified for professionalism. Thorpe made his record last September at Celtic Park, N. Y.

Today's meet was sanctioned By the Amateur Athletic union, and open to all registered amateurs, but the only entries were Princeton students—J. H. Simons, M. Hayes and M. L. Davy competed against Thompson; Simons finished second, with 5,266 points.

Thompson failed to equal Thorpe's records in any of the first three events, the 100-yard dash, the shot-put and the high jump, and when he started the half-mile walk, was started, he was 361 points behind the record. He did the walk in 3 minutes 33 seconds, making 847 points, as compared to 527 points made in the event by Thorpe, and also bettered Thorpe's record in all the following events except the broad jump. Thompson made his best showing in the high hurdles, which he ran in 16 seconds flat.

Advertising Drives the Wheels of Trade

It is recorded of a certain member of the animal kingdom that with the advent of cold weather he crawls into a hole and goes to sleep. There he stays until warm weather arrives when he awakens and comes forth.

This is suggestive of the general attitude of advertisers who, with the approach of warm weather, pull down their signs of publicity and to a certain degree go out of business until fall.

The anticipation of poor business and the withdrawal of means of communication with the buying public really cause poor business.

The experience of certain wise ones proves that by advertising through the warm months they can keep business up to normal and often up to the volume of the winter season.

Most persons are on the job during the warm months with the exception of several weeks. Set your advertising clutch for higher speed. Spend more time in developing and holding business instead of twiddling thumbs and cussin' the humidity.

Phone Main 5000 and a representative of The Constitution will call. With your knowledge of your business and his knowledge of advertising, the two of you can prepare a "ginger-up" campaign that should keep you busy selling goods.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The appropriation by council Thursday afternoon of $3,500 for the re-grading of two blocks between Mitchell and Garnett streets assures the proposition on which a large number of real estate men and property owners have been working hard for a long time.

The estimate of the property owners and Captain Clayton is that the work of regrading these two blocks can be done for $11,200. The property owners will raise by private subscription the difference between councils appropriation and the necessary sum for the completion of the work. The county has agreed to furnish the labor. Work will start about October 15.

The fact that the present regrading plan is one that will stand, and does not mean that the plan of establishing a uniform grade for the entire street has been abandoned. The purchase of the property put a new aspect on the situation, in that the possibility of obtaining money enough now to do the work on a uniform grade is remote. As a result, the property owners have decided a new plan which contemplates leaving the work of regrading in sections, the two blocks between Mitchell and Garnett streets being the first section. It is hoped that the money for the remainder of the work will be forthcoming next year.

Big Improvements Now Possible.

One of the most important features of the definite settlement of the uniform grade question on Whitehall street is that those who are contemplating erecting buildings, announcements of which have been made, now have a definite grade line to work on, for the regrading will follow the lines of the profile submitted by Captain H. M. Clayton, chief of the city construction department, which calls for a cut of eight feet at Trinity avenue.

Charles H. Black stated last night that he has plans for a $50,000 building for the old Trinity church site at Whitehall street and Trinity avenue, which he will put into execution as soon as expedient.

There are two or less mature plans for at least six more buildings on Whitehall street between Trinity avenue and the Hunter street viaduct, the distinguishing that the possibility of obtaining money enough now to do the work on a uniform grade exists. As a result, the property owners have decided a new plan which contemplates leaving the work of regrading in sections, the two blocks between Mitchell and Garnett streets being the first section. It is hoped that the money

Motorcyclist Killed.

Detroit, Mich., June 5.—Edward Hollenbeck, 24, Flint, Mich., was killed at the motordrome speedway here this afternoon while practicing on a motorcycle. He was learning the track in preparation for racing when he lost control of his machine. Going at full speed, he shot up to the top of the track, and as the guard rail fell dropped several feet to the bottom with the motorcycle on top of him.

COMMITTEE APPROVES SHERLEY BUDGET PLAN

Democratic Body to Take Final Action on Plan After It Has Been Slightly Modified.

Washington, June 5.—The Sherley plan for a budget committee of the house to regulate appropriations, fixing a total for each session and allotting this among the various appropriating committees, was agreed to with some modifications at a meeting today of the special committee on budget named at a recent democratic caucus.

Tomorrow the committee will take final action on a draft of the plan with these ideas suggested today incorporated.

The house banking and currency committee, which will originate the administration currency reform bill that President Wilson believes should be enacted at this session of congress, began its official existence today.

Representative Carter Glass, the newly-designated chairman, moved into his committee quarters and planned to begin work on the bill. He expects to call the committee together before Monday for an organization meeting. He said today that when the committee was organized subcommittees would be appointed to take charge of the various divisions of the currency problem.

These subcommittees are expected to work out a bill along the lines suggested by the chairman as a result of his conferences with President Wilson and other officials of the administration. It is probable that the president will confer with the various members of the committee with regard to the details of the bill.

Representative Glass and Senator Owen already have prepared out tentative drafts of a currency bill which the president has looked over. The measure which will be introduced in congress will be built about these drafts, to meet the views of the administration and will be presented as an administration bill. Representative Glass said today he expected to have the bill ready to be introduced before the end of June.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 5.—E. O. Painter, the millionaire fertilizer king who was drowned in the St. Johns river near here six days ago, after accumulating insurance policies of $1,178,000, left a will which indicates that his estate, exclusive of the insurance, will aggregate over $1,000,000. The document is to be filed this afternoon.

The widow and her legal adviser called at the probate judge's office shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon and ascertained how to proceed, saying the will would be filed before closing hours. From one of the witnesses to the will it was learned that the Painter estate was worth nearly $1,000,000.

The will provides for the continuation of the business of E. O. Painter to the minutest detail. Mrs. Painter and her daughter-in-law are named as executors. Many bequests to churches and charitable institutions are made.

SUIT AGAINST MORSE FOR $5,000 IS LOST

New York, June 5.—Charles W. Morse today won a suit brought against him by Henry Lehman, as assignee of C. L. Charley, of Paris, France, to recover $5,000 representing securities of the American Ice company and the Consolidated Steamship Lines. A jury in the federal court found a verdict for Morse after he had taken the stand and denied that he had ever acted as a broker in those securities, as alleged by the plaintiff.

Y. W. C. A. TO ESTABLISH RESTAURANT SOON

The governing board of the Y. W. C. A. at its meeting held Thursday afternoon decided to re-establish a rest room and restaurant as soon as a convenient location could be secured. For some time past the Y. W. C. A. has been without these features, owing to the fact that the old location in the viaduct was found unsuitable, and had to be abandoned.

ENGLAND WILL HURRY BATTLESHIP BUILDING

London, June 5.—The British government has decided to lay down three battleships of the present year's navel program immediately, instead of next March, as originally planned.

This measure is taken in consequence of the rejection by the Canadian senate of the bill to appropriate $35,000,000 for the construction of three dreadnoughts for the British navy.

Woman's Edition is Praised By Head of Farmers' Union

"The Woman's Edition was a great success, as a newspaper and a direct expression of the talent, energy and strength of the woman of today," said Hon. Charles Barrett, when at The Constitution office he met with Mrs. John K. Ottley, one of the associate editors of the Woman's Edition.

Mr. Barrett was en route home from the Pacific coast, where women are recognized as citizens, and where the experiment of woman's suffrage is being tested and being watched by the world at large.

"There is no joke about it, I can tell you," said Mr. Barrett. "The other day, while some important measure in municipal affairs was to be voted upon, the women held a meeting behind closed doors. There were some 400 or 500 of them, and the row on both sides of the question became scared to death, and began meeting in little groups all over town, apprehending what the women might be going to do.

"Are you in favor of suffrage, Mr. Barrett?" soon asked Mrs. Ottley.

His reply was: "Mrs. Ottley, I am in favor of women."

The conversation continued, with Mr. Barrett describing the men and women he had seen voting together in Oregon.

How Women Vote.

"I was asked to go automobiling to some outlying place election day," he said, "and I asked instead that I be taken to the polls, that I might see just how the women did.

"I found that they were very calm and methodical about it, and that they approached the polls just as they might have Sunday school.

"By the way, Mrs. Ottley, are you for woman suffrage?" asked the president of the International Farmers' union.

Mrs. Ottley committed herself about as far as Mr. Barrett had in a few moments before, when she said: "I think, Mr. Barrett, women ought to have everything they want, and you know we always stand with the farmers."

Congratulations From Dr. Hall.

The Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution, issued last Wednesday, is still the cause of messages of congratulation from Atlanta people.

On Thursday morning a large number of expressions of commendation by prominent people from all parts of the state were printed.

Here are some more of the complimentary things people have had to say about this unprecedented edition:

"The Woman's Edition of the Atlanta Constitution is a monument to the brain and heart of the women of Georgia, and is itself a fitting memorial to the worth of Mrs. Ella F. White, whose choice spirit of goodwill to all seems to made the entire issue.

"I am especially pleased to see in it the place given to the great peace movement, which was so dear to Mrs. White. The valuable articles by Mrs. Fanny Fern Andrews asking all the schools to observe peace day on the 18th of May of each year will yet be generally observed.

"I am glad to say that recently the city of Atlanta gave it a place in her public schools, and the action made by Mrs. Mead for the 960,000 members of the General Federation of Women's clubs to study systematically the peace movement will surely hasten the coming of that day when nations, like individuals, will be sane enough to appeal to reason instead of to brutal law rather than to force and to the field of blood.

"J. J. HALL,
"Director American Peace Society."

Appreciation From Club Women.

"Words are inadequate for me to express the gratification I feel in the success attained by the club women of Georgia, in their special edition of The Constitution.

"I have only heartfelt thanks to offer every member of The Constitution's staff, and every man on the force. All who shared in the work realized the magnificent esprit de corps which pervades the entire establishment.

For myself and for every club woman of Georgia I again say thank you.

"MRS. J. LINDSAY JOHNSON."

"The club women of Georgia are more than ever in debt to The Constitution. The wonderful beauty of the general makeup of the Woman's Edition proves anew the skill and the interest of those whose work The Constitution workers, from the editor in chief to the smiling faces of the boys who sell upon the streets.

"A thing of beauty it will be a joy forever to all interested in the portrayal of Georgia's towns by Georgia women in the year 1913.

"MRS. A. O. GRANGER."

Mortuary.

William McDuffie Sullivan.

William McDuffie Sullivan, aged 4, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sullivan, of Atlanta, died yesterday at St. Joseph's orphanage, Washington, Ga., where he was in school. His body will be brought to Atlanta and placed in the private chapel of the Burkert-Simmons company to await funeral arrangements. He is survived by a brother, Richard Sullivan, and by an aunt and two uncles. They are Mrs. W. P. Warren and William R. McDuffie, of Atlanta, and Father Joseph N. Sullivan, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Thomas F. Murphey.

Thomas F. Murphey, 55 years old, died of heart trouble at 2 o'clock at the residence, 79 Dodd avenue. He is survived by a wife and three children, one sister and one brother. The body was removed to P. J. Bloomfield's chapel. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mrs. Hessie Tankerlesly.

Mrs. Hessie Tankerlesly, aged 30 years, died Wednesday night at a private hospital, after an illness of two weeks. She is survived by her husband, Dr. J. S. Tankerlesly; a 2-year-old child and a baby 12 days old; her mother, Mrs. J. C. Evans; three sister and six brothers. Mrs. Tankerlesly was formerly Miss Hessie Evans, of Atlanta. The body was carried to Elijay, Ga., at 4:05 o'clock. The funeral will be held from the residence of Dr. Tankerlesly this morning at 10 o'clock. The interment will be in the family burying ground.

HIS LIABILITIES $1,192, AND ASSETS ONLY $25

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with Deputy Clerk Henley, of the federal court, yesterday by S. L. Dabney, a resident of Atlanta and engaged in business here. In the papers of file the petitioner, declaring he is a salesman, writes his liabilities down at $1,192.80, with assets aggregating $25.

Wreck Ties Up Traffic.

Waycross, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Through traffic between Waycross and Atlanta was tied up all of yesterday by a bad freight wreck on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic near Ambrose. The engine and a number of cars were derailed, tearing up a lot of track and delaying all traffic to be transferred for the day. None was injured in the wreck, according to the report received in Waycross.

Theaters.

The College Girls.
(At the Bijou.)

The splendid impression created by the College Girls Monday afternoon at the Bijou has been strengthened by succeeding performances, and the popular little theater has been tested to its capacity nightly. This merry mélange of music and comedy stands out as one of the best entertainments that has been offered in Atlanta in a bargain prices. The company is made up of clever people, the chorus is well drilled, and the performance from start to finish is bright, snappy and pleasing.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

Every seat was sold at the Forsyth on Thursday—just a usual happening at that when they have shows of the caliber of the bill of this week. The program is just one hit after another, starting with the best dancing act of its sort seen here, and concluding with a sensational aerial gymnastic novelty that is worth all the eight mintes the get-out-quick crowd misses. In the body of the show are such features as Lillian Shaw, foremost of the character comedianness; Jack Hazzard, the monologist, who has eclipsed all hits of talking comedians here; Ward and Curran, the character comedians; Selcon's Poems in Marble, the greatest act of its sort ever here; and Wright and Dietrich, who sing well.

It is just such vaudeville as this that has made the Forsyth such that makes people buy seats far in advance, to be positive that they will have choice accommodations. There is heavy advance sale for the few remaining performances, the demand will soon consume the supply, and then standing room fill be all that is available for the late comers.

A great big novelty will head the bill next week. Rooney's Athletic Girls, five pretty maidens who box, wrestle and do big punching stunts have featured on Broadway this season and are being sent here as special features. Travato, the eccentric violinist, is on the same program.

DAMP AND SULTRY WEATHER ON THE PROGRAM TODAY

Another damp and sultry day is forecasted by the weather man for Atlanta, and according to indications shown on the sweather map, there is due to be a steady rise in the temperature about Saturday, so that the weather, in two or three days, will be warmer than usual.

On Thursday the maximum temperature was 84 degrees, and at 3 o'clock the general cloudiness had caused the mercury to drop to 76 degrees. In spite of the fact that the temperature was not as high as usual, the moisture-laden air caused more unpleasant effects from the heat than on other days when the temperature was high.

No more showers are due for several days, but the sultry and damp condition of the atmosphere will be increased by the wind, which is blowing from the northeast and bringing the moisture direct from the Atlantic ocean.

REGULARS ARE ORDERED TO CAMP PERRY, OHIO

By special orders just received from the war department, the Second and Third battalions of the Seventeenth infantry, at Fort McPherson, have been ordered to Camp Perry, Ohio, to participate in the national and international shooting tournament, which will be held there August 26 to 29 and September 1 to 9, inclusive.

Camp Perry is located on the shores of Lake Erie, in Ohio, midway between the cities of Sandusky and Toledo, and 5 miles from Port Clinton, the usual railroad stop. The railroads, however, have agreed to run trains to the tournament grounds during the tournament.

The national matches will begin August 25 and continue through August 29. After a two days' rest the international matches will begin and continue through September 9.

W. C. Proctor Tells of Peculiar Stock Transfer at Trial of $99,000,000 Oil Suit.

Corsicana, Texas, June 5.—W. C. Proctor, secretary of the Corsicana Petroleum company and the Magnolia Petroleum company, of Texas, testifying today before special commissioners in the $99,000,000 penalty suit instituted by the state of Texas against the Standard Oil companies of New York and New Jersey, the Magnolia and Corsicana companies and sixteen individuals, declared that prior to the dissolution of the Navarro Refining company, presidents of the Magnolia, H. C. Folger, Jr., and C. N. Payne, of New York, transferred 1,798 2-3 shares of stock in the Navarro company to him for which he gave nothing in return. Messrs. Payne and Folger are among the defendants to the present suit.

When the Navarro company was dissolved by court order as operating in violation of the anti-trust laws of Texas, Payne and Folger, Proctor said, did not appear as stockholders.

"Did they (Payne and Folger) tell you that this was done to avoid the suspicion likely if they were known as owners?" asked Attorney Maury, of counsel for the state.

"They did not tell me anything," Proctor replied.

At the time the Navarro company was dissolved after an existence of about two years, Proctor testified he returned the stock to its original owners.

Proctor was on the stand all of today. He asserted that oil purchased by the Magnolia company, of the Huasteca Petroleum company, of Mexico, had been transported in carriers of the Standard Oil company, of New York. Lack of ships belonging to the Huasteca company made it necessary for the purchaser to privel means of transportation, he said. This was arranged through contracts made with the lighterage department of the Standard Oil company, of New York. He also testified that the Magnolia had purchased oil from the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, at Mexican points, he stated as basis for suit charges of conspiracy between the two Texas concerns and Standard Oil interests to restrain trade.

Mr. Proctor said he believed the Magnolia company made reports to Folger and Payne as majority stockholders.

A copy of the cipher code used by the Magnolia company was introduced as evidence today and a message from Proctor to Payne, sent February 5, 1909, translated to refer to certain legislation pending.

Just before the inquiry was adjourned for the day an effort was made to show whether or not the Magnolia's operating methods differed from those of the Navarro company. This line of questioning did not proceed far and probably will be resumed tomorrow morning.

SCHOOL BOY FALLS DEAD WHILE SPEAKING

Augusta, Ga., June 5.—A special from Millen tonight says:

"While debating the negative side of the question of government ownership of railroads here, Millen high school graduating exercises tonight, Ellis Lanier, the 16-year-old son of Councilman Sam Lanier, fell to the stage and died of heart failure before his companions could get him out of the building. His sister and her fiance, who are to be married June 10, were in the audience, as were his father and stepmother."

OIL MILL DELEGATES NAME OFFICERS TODAY

The 300 or more delegates to the convention of the Interstate Association of Oil Mill Superintendents will meet at the Auditorium-Armory this morning to elect officers and chose a place of meeting for next year. This afternoon the present session will be brought to a close with a barbecue at East Point, to which all delegates and visitors have been invited.

An interesting and instructive feature of the meeting held Thursday was the discussion of means of preventing fires in oil mills, which was led by W. J. Wrightsville, in which he gave his experiences and outlined ways and means which he recommended as preventative.

During the day a number of interesting addresses were made by various superintendents. Among them were: "Why, as Oil Men, We Have Not Shown the Same Ability That Has Been Shown in Other Lines," by B. F. Zimmerman; "Last Best Method of Oil Extraction and General Pressroom Work," by J. F. Palmer; "Listing Cotton Seed by Mill Purchasers," by F. F. Rhodes; "The Interstate Association and What It Is," by J. W. Henson; "Economy of Operation in an Oil Mill and its Results," by J. H. Morgan, and "The Best Method of Keeping an Oil Mill Going Without Sunday Work," by D. H. Wells.

A general discussion on high pressure pumps was led by Joseph Davidson, and proved of deep interest to the oil mill men.

The convention has been the means of bringing the superintendents into much closer relation in both social and business ways, and a number of delightful social affairs have been enjoyed. On Thursday night the delegates and their friends attended a theater party at the Forsyth.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

OLD CROP STRENGTH WAS COTTON FEATURE

New York, June 5.—The strength of old crop months was the feature in the cotton market today and July increased its premium over October from 40 points at the close last night to about 58 points, as shown at one time in the afternoon trading. The closing was steady and from 9 to 23 points net higher.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 2 points, which was about in line with the Liverpool cables. Reports of excessive temperatures in Texas and Oklahoma had inspired buying early in the English market but seemed to make no material impression on sentiment here and about the only feature during the early trading was an active demand for July contracts.

Within the first half hour one of the prominent local brokers was credited with buying fully 15,000 bales of July against sales of new year months, and there also was an active demand for that position from both foreign and American houses who were supposed to be selling in Liverpool in expectation of a shrinkage in the differences between the two markets as a result of continued shipments from the local stock.

This buying, combined with reports of an increased demand from spinners, appeared to render any shorts too easy and that position shut up rapidly, with the price finally reaching 11.79 in the late trading or about 52 points over the closing level of yesterday.

Detailed weather reports were considered favorable as they showed rains in the Carolinas and Georgia. Temperatures in Texas this morning but there were reports that cutworms were damaging the crop in Arkansas, while south Texas was said to be suffering from grasshoppers, and while other crop reports were generally favorable new crop months were unable to rise 10 points net higher on covering and in sympathy with old crop strength. Offerings of July increased above the 11.74 level and was said to be partly against low grade cotton in the south, while October was offered more freely in the late trading and the close showed slight reactions.

New York, June 5.—The July shorts got badly frightened today when they discovered that they that month heavily. The local stock is only about 50,000 bales of certificated cotton and there is to be heavy delivery on July contracts. No one can bring cotton here and deliver it at other prices and the basis at all July shipping points is bad way. A little bad weather or more rain and news would start a great scramble among the shorts in new crop months, for the market has been badly oversold. The short covering has not yet started, but that may start any time. Conservative people consider a most dangerous market to be short in and the idea of changes on the long side. July all sorts of changes on the long side. July closed 26 points net while new crop months were up 11 to 12 points.

Liverpool is due to come 4 to 9 points up.

New York, June 5.—The vulnerability of the market on the best side today seemed better appreciated and a sharp demand for July developed, which created the only feature in an otherwise dragging market. Foreign and Wall street orders were executed, sending prices from half a point to the large short interest pledged to deliver contracts showed a scramble for easier prices may be expected, as a result, the close showed July 74 cent over yesterday with a perverse feeling noticeable in the more distant months. In view of the fact that general business has decreased than the crop has improved, it would seem probable that present prices here are not justified, especially as the movement is better than sellers here have been willing to appreciate.

Liverpool is due up on July and 2½ to 4 up on later months.

Linseed.

Duluth, June 5.—Linseed: Cash, $1.29¼; July, $1.29¼; asked; September, $1.31¼; October, $1.30¼.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, June 5.—Cotton seed oil was firm for the better buying by bulls and prices advanced 7 to 8 points and gave speculative demand, induced by the belief that crop conditions late in months were barely steady in absence of outside support.

Closing prices were 2 points higher to 3 net lower. Sales, 2,100 barrels.

SALES OF CASH WHEAT RALLIED THE MARKET

Chicago, June 5.—Large sales of cash wheat today for prompt shipment out of Chicago had a rallying effect on deferred deliveries. Although the market closed weak, latest prices ranged from ¼c off to ¼@¾c net advance. Corn finished ¼@¾c to July @ ⅝c up; oats down a shade to ¼@⅝c, and provisions increased in cost 2½@5 to 15c.

Sales of cash wheat here amounted to 550,000 bushels, the most generous total in a long while. The greater part was bid either to go to a Baltimore exporter, who deals chiefly with Portugal Duluth also disposed of 130,000 bushels for export. Bullish sentiment was further aided by grain dealers estimating the Kansas harvest as low as 70,000,000 bushels, and reporting the Oklahoma forecast to 15,000,000 bushels. Stock market weakness had a depressing effect at the outset, and had been influential at the close. At both times rains in Kansas were reported just when opportune for the bears. Taking the day as a whole, however, the bulls had the advantage, which was emphasized by adverse crop advices from Missouri and Russia. Export clearances of wheat and flour were liberal, being equal to 500,000 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat were 420,000 bushels, a year ago 353,000 bushels.

Rural offerings of corn were not yet equal to merchandising requirements, and after an early dip, due to fine weather, the market strengthened. The close was the highest so far on the crop. Big consignments weakened oats.

Packers hoisted the provision market, and counteracted heavy selling, thought to be that of packers only. This selling was mainly in October lard and September contracts.

STOCKS MADE RALLY AFTER EARLY SETBACK

Market Showed Recuperative Powers—Bear Drive in Afternoon.

New York, June 5.—The stream of liquidation was checked today and efforts were made to support the stocks which form the backbone of the market. The street was still on edge as a result of the tension of the last few days and there were periods of pronounced weakness, but the market showed increased recuperative powers and rallied briskly after a setback at the opening and a sharp bear drive in the afternoon. Increased pressure in the final dealings put the list well below yesterday's close, but losses were considerably smaller than on the preceding day. The movement as a whole was highly irregular and threw little light upon the present or future market conditions. The market for stocks was better, although not keen. From commission houses it was reported that low prices had attracted a considerable amount of investment buying. It did not appear, however, that these purchases were of sufficient amounts to become a large factor in the course of the market. There was some buying of stocks on the theory that a rally was due, but speculative sentiment was hardly less pessimistic than before.

Selling by London in this market, which has been of large influence in the recent slump, continued today. About 25,000 shares were disposed of here in the early trading for long account and it was chiefly because of these offerings that the market began the day with many losses of 1 to 2 points. After a sharp rebound the market grew dull, holding firmly on the high level until a spirited bear drive upset the list in the early afternoon. Vigorous buying served to prop up the leaders, but the tone was unsettled until the close. Some stocks were under severe pressure. This was particularly true of the tobacco shares. American Tobacco lost nearly 12 points on top of yesterday's 17 points break. Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio and Great Smelting preferred also were distinctly heavy.

The bond market was heavy, with special weakness among some of the 5 per cent issues. Missouri Pacific convertibles losing 1½-2 and Denver and Rio Grande fundings 2s 2 1-4s. Northern Pacific 3s fell back 2 1-2. Total sales, par value, $1,300,000. United States 3s and Panama 3s advanced 1-4 on call.

Government securities unchanged.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 62.27 per cent; last week it was 32.04 per cent.

London Stock Market.

London, June 5.—The stock market opened decreased activity today, after a somewhat dull American shares. Mexican rails and consols were the weak spots during the forenoon, but better tendency developed later on the belief that the political horizon had cleared over several days. Continental and Mexican shares were weak.

American securities opened uncertain, with prices around parity. Active liquidation followed and prices sagged 1 point. Later orders were executed, sending prices from half a point to two points above parity. After several rapid fluctuations, the market recovered sharply in late trading and closed firm.

FOR BOND ISSUE COMMITTEE CALLS

Recommendation Adopted by Council for Appointment of Committee of Fifteen to Look Into Matter.

The prospects of another bond issue for Atlanta Thursday afternoon took more definite shape when the finance committee, after a thorough investigation of the city's financial condition and possible remedies for the situation, recommended to council the issuing of bonds. The recommendation adopted by council calls upon Mayor Pro Tem Warren to appoint a committee of fifteen members, ten from council and five citizens, to look into the advisability of a bond issue.

There was no suggestion in the recommendation as to the amount of bonds that should be issued. But the recommendation stipulated that the bond issue was needed for improvements in schools, water service, hospitals, sewers and streets.

Mayor Pro Tem. Warren is expected to appoint the committee before the end of the present week.

HOLLAND NOW MANAGER EISEMAN DEPARTMENT

H. L. Holland, one of the best known and most popular hat men in the south, is now manager of the hat department of Eiseman Bros., Inc., Mr. Holland knows the hat business from A to Z. He is thoroughly posted on the manufacturing, sales and style questions incident to the business, and his ripened experience has made him a safe authority on the subject. To the legion of personal patrons he has served so satisfactorily for so many years no introduction is necessary. They never think of a hat without thinking of "Holland"—and the very natural sequence is to "look him up."

Mr. Holland cordially invites his friends and the hat buyer in general to call on him at his new location. He has a hat stock there of supreme quality and unlimited variety, giving his natural qualifications larger possibilities than he has ever enjoyed before.

FOREMAN TO ADDRESS TRUSTEES OF EMORY

Named at Meeting of Alumni to Ask Board to Consent to Intercollegiate Athletics.

At a meeting of the alumni of Emory college who are working to secure intercollegiate athletics for the institution, Lauren Foreman was chosen to make the formal presentation of their petition before the trustees at their yearly meeting next Tuesday in Oxford.

Mr. Foreman, who, with hundreds of others of the alumni of the Methodist college, is enthusiastic for the students to be allowed to participate in games with other college teams, will deliver an address giving the reasons for the request.

The meeting Thursday night at which Mr. Foreman was appointed, was attended by a large number of the alumni, and was held in the assembly room of the University club. J. E. McRee presided as chairman and Thomas W. Connally acted as secretary.

Already from replies received to letters sent out to the alumni it would appear that nine out of ten among them favor intercollegiate sports, and a strong effort will be made to change the attitude of the trustees.

A large deputation of Atlanta alumni will go to Oxford all "alumni day," which comes next Tuesday, and in order to increase the number, the alumni who met last night appointed a committee to call by telephone every man whose address they have.

DECREE IN OIL CASE DECLARED INADEQUATE

Attorney General Indicates Attitude Towards Probe to Determine if Trust Still Exists.

Washington, June 5—Attorney General McReynolds said today that he regards the Standard Oil dissolution decree as inadequate to meet the intent of the sherman law. This was the first definite indication of the attorney's attitude toward an investigation now being conducted to determine whether an "oil trust" still exists.

His objections to the decree, like those he had expressed against the tobacco decree, are based on the ground that a real dissolution of a trust cannot be accomplished by a distribution of the stock pro rata among the same shareholders.

From Charles B. Morrison and Oliver E. Pagan, his special assistants, the attorney general has heard the results of their investigation of the oil situation and is now deliberating whether the department of justice will be justified in taking further action under the Sherman law. Should he reach the conclusion that a trust still exists, it is pointed out that three plans of action are open to the attorney general:

A civil suit for the dissolution of any new combination, indictment of individuals or contempt of court proceedings.

If action is taken it is believed it will be more likely of a criminal nature.

CAMPAIGN OF RELIGION TO BE WAGED IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., JJune 5.—(Special)—The Baptist Tabernacle here, organized last October with 200 members and with now 700, and a Sunday school of more than that number, with a new building erected, with a seating of 1,500, will be dedicated June 15. The pastor, Rev. B. E. Neighbor, will be assisted by the assistant pastors, Rev. O. H. Butler and John Romer, with Rev. M. A. Jenkins, former pastor of the First Baptist church here.

Dr. J. H. Dew, of Missouri, will, on the night after the dedication of the new building, begin a month's revival meeting, and after that is over, traveling tent meetings will be held in the suburbs till the last week in November, when a great Bible conference is to be held, with Dr. Gray, of the Moody Bible school; Dr. Needham, of Philadelphia; Rev. R. V. Miller, of Asheville, and others on the program.

Beautiful Graduating Exercises Held by the Girls' High School

One hundred and forty pretty girls, clad in white draped with pink ribbons, graduated from the Girls' High School and the English Commercial high school last night, the exercises being held in the Grand theater. Every available seat was taken and toward the closing, even standing room was at a premium.

Carrying bouquets of pink roses, the girl graduates captivated their audience, especially at the last in the Delsarte drill, when the combination of green wreaths, yellow chrysanthemums and bright faces made a pretty picture.

The crowning feature of an interesting program was the award of the Vivian Marsh cup to Miss Jeannette Victor, and the five days ago was awarded the Agnes Scott scholarship. Miss Victor was greeted with a tremendous ovation when she came forward to accept the handsome trophy from the hands of Colonel W. R. Daley, president of the board of education, who made the presentation speech.

The Vivian Marsh cup is a handsome silver trophy, awarded annually by Miss Vivian Marsh, giving cups having been awarded to date, the winners are Jeannette Victor, 1913; Dorothy Foster, 1912; Amelia Calkins, 1911; Ruth Wreghand, 1910; Lillian Lupo, 1910.

Advocate School Tax.

Before the presentation of the diplomas Colonel Daley made a fiery speech, advocating a school tax for the maintenance of the public schools. "The English Commercial High school is a homeless school, an orphan in our system," he said. "It has the land, and no home. We are renting old fire traps to house our school, and the lives of our girls are in danger.

The Girls' High school is a dismal, disgraceful structure. It is so dark in the corridors that when the president of the board of education and several members of the school board visited the day we were unable to distinguish the way to the principal's office, and had to ask a guide, though we had been in the building many times. It is heated by fourteen furnaces and four stoves, and they don't keep it warm. It is a disgrace.

"In fact, all our high schools are out of date. A good explosion that would blow the high school into atoms might be a good thing for Atlanta. Citizens would then be aroused to the need of new high schools. The remedy is a school tax."

Presentation of Diplomas.

Following the plea for better schools by Colonel Daley came the presentation of the diplomas.

The program of the evening was as follows:

Prayer—Class.

Chorus, "Carmena Waltz" (Willson)—Class.

Greetings—Gertrude Gates, Girls' High school.

Essay, "Vocational Schools"—Blanche Foster, E. C. H. S.

Essay, "Ethical Values at the High School"—Floy Edwards, Girls' High school.

Chorus, "The Beautiful Blue Danube" (Strauss)—Class.

March—Class.

THREE-CORNERED TIE FOR PRIZE AT LAW SCHOOL

The Atlanta Law school contest for the declamation prize resulted in a three-cornered tie for first place, when Harry B. Terrell, Allen Dowda and George Northern were reported joint winners of the gold medal.

The contest was judged by Judge John S. Candler, Judge J. T. Pendleton, Hon. M. L. Brittain, and the decision was unanimous. Mrs. William Clark Spiker, professor of oratory, was called in to confer with the judges, but not one of the three winners had the edge on the other two. Leonard J. Grossman, who withdrew from the competition after winning the debate in Monday night, was elected by the contestants to preside over the meeting.

Considerable interest in the Atlanta Law school commencement program has been shown by members of the Atlanta bar, who ill attend the graduation exercises at the Grand next Saturday night. The principal address will be delivered by Hon. W. A. Covington, of Moultrie, Ga.

The graduates will celebrate at the University club next Saturday night after the graduation exercises at the Grand theater. Covers for sumptuous spread coupled with southern oratory will be the crowning event of commencement week. Dean Hamilton Douglas and Hon. George Westmoreland will represent the faculty on the program, while George Osborne, W. O. Cheney, president of the class, and Leonard Grossman will respond for the graduates. Basil Stockbridge will be toastmaster.

COUNCIL ASKS CHANGE IN ELECTION LAWS

City council Thursday afternoon adopted a resolution, introduced by Alderman Fowler, to ask the next legislature to amend the election laws so that a two-thirds majority of votes will not mean a two-thirds majority of the registration lists, as at present, but a two-thirds majority of the votes actually cast.

Alderman Candler pointed out that in his ward alone in the last election seventeen voters who had registered had died before election day, thus counteracting the effect of thirty-four votes. He argued that not only did cases of death make it difficult to pass up measures which the people wanted when a two-thirds majority was necessary, but that registered voters who failed to go to the polls and vote operated against the fairness of elections just as effectively.

HE CONFESSES KILLING, BUT CAN'T BE PUNISHED

Columbus, Ohio, June 5.—Lee Cage, a member of the Iron Moulders' union of Wheeling, W. Va., confessed in the federal court here today that he killed John J. Reardon, a detective of Pittsburg, at Steubenville, Ohio, in 1910. The tragedy occurred during a period of labor trouble.

Cage was tried at Steubenville more than a year ago on a charge of having murdered Reardon, but he was acquitted, having refused to take the witness stand. Cage's confession today was made in connection with a civil hearing.

He cannot be tried again on the same charge, having once been in jeopardy.

Nominations by Wilson.

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson today sent to the senate these nominations: United States attorneys, Herbert S. Phillips, southern district of Florida; D. Virgil Bourland, western district of Arkansas.

L. N. HUFF TO OPEN SECOND OPTICAL STORE

L. N. Huff, who for the past five years has conducted an optical store at 52 West Mitchell street, announces that he has opened another place at 70 Whitehall street. Mr. Huff will be at the Whitehall store and W. C. Jackson, who is a man of long experience in the optical business, will have charge of the Mitchell street place.

Dr. E. O. Silvieus, an experienced oculist, of Cleveland, Ohio, will be with the Whitehall establishment and will do all the intricate work for both places. Mr. Jackson, the new manager of the Mitchell street store, was with the optical house of F. A. Hardy & Co. for six years.

NEAR-BEER DEALERS PAY $56,000 LICENSE

All but three of 170 near dealers in Atlanta have paid their state tax for 1913, making the total amount collected $56,600, according to Clarence Bell, of Bell & Ellis, who was appointed by Governor, Joseph M. Brown to carry out the work of hastening the work of collecting.

The three men who have not paid are now under indictment by the grand jury, charged with misdemeanors. Their names are given as Ike Morris, E. M. Cason and J. M. Parrish. Each year there has been great delay in the payment of the state tax, and believe New York is a dangerous place the plan of the state in appointing a particular lawyer for the work in different towns has proved a decided success.

COMMITTEE FAVORS M'ADOO'S SUGGESTION

Washington, June 5.—Acting upon recommendations of Secretary McAdoo, the senate commerce committee today voted to report favorably a bill to defer until January 1, 1914, the proposed reorganization of the customs service, which, by reducing the number of districts and collectors from 156 to 49, would affect every customs port in the country.

Secretary McAdoo declared that while the plan, approved by former President Taft, was an improvement upon the present distribution of customs districts, there were objections which might be overcome if its operation were delayed. Mr. McAdoo said he did not believe "local pride" was a valid or serious reason for delaying the reapportionment. He recommended that the plan be amended to require an annual saving of $500,000.

Too Dangerous for Lunatic.

New York, June 5.—Thomas Shehan, of Albany, who escaped yesterday from the state insane asylum at Poughkeepsie, surrendered to the New York police today.

"I think you had better send me back to the asylum," he said. "I believe New York is a dangerous place to live in."

Your Usefulness Ends When Your Eyesight Fails

Your Most Valuable Possession---They Bring All The Beauties of Nature to You

DO YOUR EYES ache when you read? Do the words become blurred? Does the sunlight irritate your eyes? Do you see little spots after working at something that requires close application? If so, nature is warning you. She is telling you that you are using the strength of your eyes faster than she can supply it. Rest glasses may be all you need. See us today for an examination. Delay and you may seriously impair your sight. We have made a specialty of examining eyes and fitting them with proper glasses for many years. Isn't it worth your while to know whether or not you need glasses?

ALABAMA RATE CASE HEARING COMES TO CLOSE

Presentation of all exhibits and conclusion of argument before the federal court of appeals for the fifth judicial circuit, Judge Don A. Pardee, of Atlanta, and Judge D. D. Shelby, of Huntsville, both of the circuit court of appeals, and Judge Richard Grubb, of Birmingham, of the federal district court for the northern district of Alabama, concluded the Alabama passenger rate case yesterday afternoon except for the decision yet to be rendered by the judges.

Three years ago the Alabama railroad commission reduced the mileage rate on all railroads within that state. Led by the Louisville and Nashville company, the railroads affected asked the federal court having jurisdiction in Alabama to repudiate the Alabama railroad commission's order and since that time the case has been pending in the federal courts. Argument and exhibits have occupied the time of the judges since Tuesday last, when the case was brought to the front.

The exhibits and arguments piled up since the case was opened Tuesday last are bulky and will necessitate a long and study by the judges before a decision can be reached by them. Experts in federal court work declare it will require at least two months, maybe four months, to reach a conclusion in the case by the court of appeals.

FATHER FLAVIAN HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCES

Father Flavian, of Cincinnati, who reached Atlanta Tuesday morning to conduct the 1913 novena at Saint Anthony Catholic church, West End, has been greeted by large congregations every morning and evening since his arrival.

Coming to Atlanta vouched for only by Father Jackson's declaration that he would easily entertain, and interest all who would give him audience, Father Flavian has more than made good as is shown by the ever-growing and increasing audiences at Saint Anthony. Always largely attended, the Saint Anthony novenas this year show a promise of surpassing the annual nine days' veneration of that church's patron saint.

An interesting and particularly enjoyable program is now being arranged for Sunday at Saint Anthony.
